Elswick Goes On Trial for Killing Wife

Defense Counsel Calls Death 'Accident,' Not Murder, in Statement

In opening statements in the trial of Bert Elswick for the murder of his wife, the defense attorney said he will prove the death was an accident.

Elswick is charged with strangling his wife the night of Dec. 5, 1953, in the Green Camp village dump. He was indicted by the January term of the grand jury for first degree murder.

Bernard Moloney, his court-appointed attorney said this morning in his opening statement, "Not only is the defendant not guilty of first degree murder, he is not guilty of any crime. This was a tragic accident."

Premeditation Charged

Ralph Carhart, Marion County Prosecutor, said that the state "will produce evidence of premeditated malice in the killing."

After reading the indictment returned by the January term of the county grand jury, Carhart said the state of Ohio proposes to show that for some time, 15 or 16 years, the defendant and his wife had been married, that she had been released from an honor camp where she had served a term for arson and that the defendant had been in a state reformatory.

Recounts Events

He said the state will prove that the Elswicks resided in a trailer home at Green Camp owned by William Baker and that on Dec. 5, 1953, the defendant and his wife went to a tavern.

They called a taxi about 9 p.m. on that night, he said, and after getting into the cab, stopped to

Board Would Put Question On May Ballot

Would Enable City To Raise Minimum Pay Scale to $3,400

The Marion City School Board yesterday voted unanimously to put a school levy of 4.75 mills before voters in the May 4 primary. Money from the proposed levy will be used to furnish kindergartens in 10 elementary schools and to raise teachers' salaries.

A levy of 4.75 mills means that each property owner will pay $4.75 per year for every $1,000 worth of property on the tax duplicate.

4 Mills for Salaries

Four mills will go for salaries and three-fourths of a mill for kindergartens, school board members agreed.

The board decided that 4.75 was needed to remodel rooms for kindergartens and to make Marion able to hire and retain good teachers. Representatives of civic and service clubs, meeting with the board last Monday, suggested a levy high enough to make Marion competitive for the top teachers.

Next step for the levy is to file it with the board of elections. This must be done at least 25 days before the election.

60 Per Cent Vote Needed

Sixty per cent of the voters in the primary must approve the levy.

If approved, the money will be used to hire new teachers and open kindergartens by the fall semester.

The levy does not include salary increases for cafeteria workers or substitute teachers. Starting teacher salaries in Marion will rise from $2,600 to $3,400, if the levy is adopted by the voters.

The board proposed a levy when figures showed Marion ranked far below other Ohio cities of comparable size and makeup in educational outlay. Marion City Superintendent of schools L. L. Dickey, at the meeting of civic and service representatives, pointed out that Marion's salary scale was the lowest, over the last 35 years, of 18 other comparable Ohio cities.

Herbert Brownell (center) and Senator Karl Mundt (R., South Dakota), following a Senate appropriations committee meeting. McCarthy put in a busy day in which he (1) said he will insist on cross-examination rights at the Army-McCarthy investigation; (2) will ask all witnesses to submit to a lie detector test; (3) will call Pentagon general counsel H. Hensel as a witness and (4) will write Defense Secretary Charles Wilson to find out about the Army's practice of recording conversations.

1,200 Sign Petition

Fire Station Asked In East Side of City

Proposals for increasing city fire protection—including erection of a new fire station—were aired at the Marion City Council meeting held Monday night in city hall.

One proposal approved by Council was an ordinance calling for the advertisement for bids and signing of contracts for purchase of a new fire truck.

A PETITION signed by some 1,200 persons requested a new fire station be erected in the eastern section of the city.

Council also received a recommendation by the Fire Prevention Committee of the Chamber of Commerce that all recommendations made by Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt in his annual report should be complied with. The chief had called for two new fire stations and more firemen and equipment.

The ordinance for advertisement for bids for a new pumper truck was unanimously approved after a brief discussion.

Third Ward Councilman Herman Rinehart suggested that the ordinance specify that the new 1,000 gallon pumper be placed in the W. Center St. station. He said it was his understanding that purchase of the truck is contemplated to replace the 1927 model pumper truck now housed there.

SAFETY - SERVICE Director Ralph Forrest said he believes the fire chief has the sole control of placement of various pieces of fire fighting equipment.

City Solicitor George Piacentino backed up this statement and explained in his opinion even if the ordinance carried such a specification, it would not be legally enforceable.

Chief Sifritt said that his recommendation would be to place the new truck at the W. Center St. station because of the large number of industrial plants in that area of town. He added that the truck could easily be called to fight fires in the downtown district from the W. Center St. station.

A QUESTION as to whether the ordinance should provide for both advertising for bids and entering into a contract for the truck was raised by Councilman-at-Large Robert G. Haldeman. He said he felt bids should first be obtained to determine how much the new truck is going to cost before the contract is signed. He said if the cost is too much, Council may decide against the purchase.

City Auditor Elmer Shaw explained that the contract even though signed would not be valid until he had certified necessary funds for the purchase are available. This could not be done until Council appropriates the money, he explained. Therefore if Council decides the cost of the

French Troops Beat Back New Attack by Reds

Fighting Called Most Severe in Last Week Of Indochina Struggle

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — The beleaguered French Union defenders of Dien Bien Phu reported today they had beaten back a sharp Vietminh attack on one of their battalions and claimed they killed 175 of the rebels.

The clash yesterday was the hardest fighting reported in a week from the besieged fortress in northwest Indochina but nowhere near on the scale of the initial all-out onslaught in which the French claimed they killed 3,000 of the Communist-led rebels and wounded another 9,000.

The French army commander here said the rebels attacked on the road linking the heart of the Dien Bien Phu fortifications with the southernmost outpost of the French-held plain.

The Vieminh made a bold effort to wipe out a French Union battalion moving from the center of the fortress to join another battalion coming up from the south.

French tanks and mobile units joined the infantry and artillery to quickly smash the rebel attempt.

Charter Group Finishes Work On First Draft

Commission Members Will Make Review of Sections Approved

The first draft of a home rule charter for Marion was finished at a meeting last night of the City Charter Commission.

Adding seven final sections, the commission completed phase one of their work, and have called a recess in meetings before beginning a second revision of the proposed charter.

Will Be Retyped

As the charter now stands the sections of it have all been revised to some extent and are in no special order. Therefore, it will be retyped by the commission secretary, Mrs. W. Dexter Hazen, and copies of it will be submitted to Carl Haberman who will number the sections and prepare an index, and to Miss Edith Brown for grammatical corrections. These preparations will probably take two weeks.

Walter D. Moore outlined further plans of the commission. He said the commission, upon resumption of meetings, will make such revisions as are necessary in the first draft. Commission members will also visit communities in the state already employing a city manager form of government. The purpose of these visits will be to learn how the system operates practically and learn in advance any of the pitfalls that might develop in Marion.

Public Meetings

This second draft will then be submitted to experts for appraisal and to the citizens of Marion in a series of public meetings for their suggestions. The commission will then go back into executive session and prepare a third draft on

Probe Job Open

McCarthy's Group Looks for Counsel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate investigations subcommittee meets today for another try at finding a special counsel for its investigation of the bitter fight between its chairman, Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), and the Army.

William J. Jameson, president of the American Bar Assn. (ABA), yesterday rejected the hot-spot post on grounds the ABA Board of Directors believed it would not be appropriate for him to serve. He is a Republican from Billings, Mont.

Matter of Priority

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) told newsmen the selection of someone else would have priority at today's closed subcommittee session.

Mundt will preside at the public hearings planned, McCarthy having stepped aside to that extent. The South Dakotan said there might also be discussion today of the touchy matter of ground rules for the inquiry into charges and countercharges by McCarthy and Secretary of the Army Stevens and their aides.

McCarthy has announced he plans to refrain from voting on any final conclusions the subcommittee may make, but he has said he will insist on the right to cross-examine witnesses and will permit Army representatives to question him when he testifies.

He said late yesterday he will ask that one of the witnesses be H. Struve Hensel, newly named assistant secretary of defense.

He said he wants to ask Hensel, former general counsel to the Defense Department, why the Army released a report alleging pressures from the subcommittee for special favors for Pvt. G. David Schine. Schine is a rich New Yorker who was an unpaid member of the subcommittee staff until he was drafted last fall.

McCarthy and Roy Cohn, the subcommittee's chief counsel, have accused Secretary Stevens and John G. Adams, an Army lawyer, of trying to use Schine "as a hostage" to force the subcommittee to abandon its investigations of the Army. McCarthy and Cohn called it "blackmail." Stevens retorted that was "fantastic."

The whole row was an indirect outgrowth of McCarthy's inquiry into what he has termed "coddling of Communists" within the Army, and Stevens' assertion that during the probe an Army general was abused by McCarthy.

Late yesterday, the Army disclosed it has tightened up its lines against possible infiltration by subversives. A new directive, among other steps, requires all commissioned and warrant officers to sign fresh loyalty certificates.

Potter Objects

McCarthy's suggestion that all witnesses in the hearings, including himself, should submit to lie detector tests drew sharp comment last night from Sen. Potter (R-Mich), a subcommittee member.

"A lot of poppycock," Potter said of the proposal when he was asked about it in a transcribed MBS radio interview.

He said it would "establish the precedent of a three-ring circus" at congressional hearings. And, he said, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has voiced doubt of the value of a lie detector test, and most courts reject its findings for use as evidence.

Democrats Hit GOP Proposals On Ouster Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Scenting victory, Senate Democrats today brushed aside a Republican offer to water down the political effect of a resolution to oust Sen. Chavez (D-NM) from the seat he has held since 1935.

Party lines held firm yesterday as the Senate began debating a resolution to cancel out the 1952 New Mexico senatorial election in which Chavez defeated Republican Patrick J. Hurley, a former secretary of war by about 5,000 votes. The issue may come to a vote late today.

The resolution is based on the finding of a Republican majority of the Senate elections subcommittee that there were so many voting irregularities in the 1952 election it would be impossible to pick the legal winner. Sen. Hennings (D-Mo), the subcommittee's one-man minority, has vigorously dissented from this opinion.

Underlying the Chavez election challenge is a fight for numerical superiority in the Senate, where there now are 48 Democrats—including Chavez—47 Republicans and an Independent, Sen. Morse of Oregon.

Marion Firms Favoring Plan For Bus Lines

Poll Half Finished, Shows Businessmen Willing To Split Loss

Polling of Marion businessmen for approval of a plan to give financial aid for the start of a new bus company in the city has reached the half-way mark.

Jack E. Lautenslager, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said that so far approval of the plan among the businessmen who have expressed an opinion is nearly 100 per cent. He made this report at a regular meeting of the retail board of managers held at the Harding Hotel Monday noon.

Noting that the polling began with the mailing of bulletins late Friday and Saturday morning explaining the plan, board members said they were highly pleased with progress of the proposal. Lauten-

Legionnaires Here To Greet National Head

Arthur J. Connell Will Be Honor Guest At Luncheon in YMCA

Members of the American Legion will play host here tomorrow to Arthur J. Connell, national Legion commander.

Connell, making the first visit to Marion by a national commander in 32 years, will be honored at a luncheon in the YMCA. Fred W. Thacker of Marion, commander of the Sixth Ohio Legion district, announced that between 125 and 150 Legionnaires and members of other civic, service and veterans organizations will attend the 11:45 luncheon.

Plans call for Connell and Howard C. Kingdom, Ohio commander, to arrive in Marion by automobile about 11:30. They will be greeted by Thacker and Ralph Jones of Pataskala, sixth district vice-commander, and go immediately to the luncheon. The Ohio department auxiliary commander, Mrs. Linus Schmelzer of Delphos, is expected to be in attendance also.

Connell and his party are coming to Marion from Akron and plan to leave here for Newark at 2 p.m. The formal visit is being made to honor the Sixth district along with the county Legion posts for their work and accomplishments in membership and civic activities over the last several years.

The national commander is a World War I Navy veteran from Middletown, Conn. who has risen through Legion ranks, starting first as a post commander, then national vice-commander and national executive committeeman. He is the first World War I national commander since 1949.

Ostrander Man Killed in Crash Near Delaware

DELAWARE — Charles A. Miller, 42, of Ostrander in Delaware County, was killed at 3:40 p.m. Monday when the pickup truck in which he was a passenger missed a curve on U. S. Route 36, one and one-half miles west of here.

State highway patrolmen from the Delaware post said Miller was pronounced dead on arrival at Jane M. Case Hospital here. Cause of death was listed as a crushed chest.

Driver of the truck was Ivan J. Erwin, 43, of Delaware, who is being held at the Delaware County jail for investigation in connection with the mishap. Erwin was driving a pickup truck owned by the Major Appliance store of Delaware.

Patrolmen said the truck first went off the highway on the right side of a curve the driver lost control and the vehicle skidded across to the left side of the road where it crashed over a steep embankment. The truck jumped the bank, struck a telephone pole and farm fence.

The driver, Erwin, was treated at Jane M. Case Hospital for face lacerations.

Miller's body was removed to

Toledo Judge Lessens Convict's Hope of Parole

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A common pleas judge passed this sentence yesterday on a convicted burglar:

Three life prison terms to be served consecutively, and 2 terms of 5 to 30 years each, also to be served consecutively.

Judge John W. Hackett said he "hoped to lessen" the parole chances of Charles Dear, 31, who pleaded guilty to 5 charges of burglary at night of an inhabited dwelling. Dear, who has twice been imprisoned for burglary, would be eligible for parole in 10 years on a single life sentence.

Doubts Reports

Probe of Flying Saucers Denied by U.S. Air Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman today termed without basis an assertion that the Air Force has recovered hunks of "flying saucers" and just isn't telling the public about them.

The Air Force position, he said, is that "given enough factual data" every "flying saucer" report over the last six years could be explained in natural, earthly, nonsensational terms.

"We don't think the so-called saucers come from outer space or from a foreign government," the spokesman said.

Pilot States Views

Bill Nash, a Pan American World Airways pilot, told the Greater Miami Aviation Assn. recently he was convinced that "the Air Force has collected hardware from outer space."

"I do not believe the Air Force cares to make all its findings public so long as the United States is threatened by unfriendly powers," Nash said.

Nash was quoted as having reported sighting unidentified objects while flying from New York to Miami on a date not specified.

He said he and his crew saw six objects, later joined by two others, and the lights from them were "20 times brighter than those of Norfolk and Newport News, Va., near where the alleged sighting was made.

'Not' From Earth

"From their maneuvers, there is no doubt in my mind these objects were controlled by intelligent beings," he said. "When you have seen them, you realize they were not made on this planet."

The Pentagon officer currently handling "saucer' queries said that to date more than 80 per cent of the sightings — both visual and by radar — have been identified as of known objects. He said from 10 to 15 per cent have been outright hoaxes.

"The others probably could be explained if our knowledge of physics was greater," he said. "There are many things about the sky that science still doesn't understand."

Britain Opens Drive Against Jamaica Reds

Centers of Left-Wing Activities Hit in Two Quick Raids by Police

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—Britain cranked up an anti-Red drive in a third Caribbean colony today after seizing documents in lightning raids on two left-wing centers in this West Indies island capital.

Following crackdowns on alleged pro-Communists in British Guiana and British Honduras on the American continental mainland, authorities yesterday swooped down here on the home of Jamaican labor leader Ferdinand Christofer Smith, assistant secretary of the Communist-dominated World Federation of Trade Unions, and on the offices of the left-wing People's Educational Organization.

Police said documents they seized in Smith's home identified Communist organizers and fellow travelers in Jamaica. The files and papers taken in the raid on the educational organization were said by police to have been of a type banned by law as undesirable.

Announcements of the raids did not indicate any action had been taken against Smith or the leaders of the educational organization. Smith, president of the Red-tinged Jamaica Federation of Trade Unions (JFTU), was purged in 1948 as a leader in the United States of the CIO National Maritime Union on the grounds of Communist activities.

He was permitted to leave the United States "voluntarily" in 1951 to avoid deportation on charges of subversion and being an undesirable alien.

The police said the documents taken in his home yesterday also contained the names of Iron Curtain organizations having contact with the JFTU.

British measures against Reds in their Western Hemisphere possessions started last year with the ouster of leftist Prime Minister Cheddi Jagan and his peoples Progressive party government in British Guiana.

Trial

purchase some wine. Elswick's wife wanted to go somewhere else to clean up but the defendant commented that they had "other places to go," Carhart said. They then inquired about the fare to Green Camp, paid the fare and instructed the driver to take them to the village dump at Green Camp, he said.

Carhart said the state will also produce witnesses who saw the couple at the Green Camp dump and saw the defendant later call for a cab to Marion. The state will attempt to prove that the cab driver was unable to find Elswick at Green Camp and that the defendant went back to the trailer camp alone. The defendant was found at the same trailer about noon the next day and was questioned by authorities.

Admits Strangling

Carhart said Elswick admitted strangling his wife and there are "all elements for a first degree murder charge."

Elswick's attorney reminded the jury of eight men and four women that the indictment returned by the grand jury was not evidence in the case. "We believe," he continued, "that evidence will disclose that Mr. and Mrs. Elswick were married some 17 years and that it certainly was a stormy 17 years at that." He stated that the Elswicks had been separated from September, 1953, until Dec. 1, 1953, when Mrs. Elswick returned. Mrs. Elswick had left her husband on several occasions and was absent several days to months at a time, he said. Evidence, Moloney said will disclose that the defendant's wife was intoxicated at the time of her return.

"We believe that evidence will disclose that because of the state of intoxication, the defendant has no recollection of the occurence." He concluded with, "not only is the defendant not guilty in the first degree, he is not guilty of any crime. This was a tragic accident."

Selection of a jury of eight men and four women to hear the trial was completed at 11:15 a.m. today in Common Pleas Court.

Seated were Loss Epley of near Marion, John Jennings of Keytown Camp, Roy H. Gherman of 320 Blaine Ave., Isabelle D. Uhl of 468 E. Center St., Edna V. Shetterly of 211 Windsor St.; John P. Brinkman of 389 Mary St.; Junior Richard McCoy of 220 E. Church St., Alfred D. Hopkins of 279 Jefferson St.; Estelle E. Dawson of 395 Cherry St.; Harvey Kraner of 221 W. Columbia St.; Wilson Jones of 237 Kensington Pl.; and Estelle M. Purcell of 581 Cherry St.

Alternate Selected

Sworn in as the 13th, or alternate, juror was Dale McCombs of 134 Barnhart St.

Elswick was indicted by the January term of the grand jury for the Dec. 5, 1953 slaying of his 31-year-old wife, Violet, following an argument at the Green Camp village dump.

A tentative panel of 11 jurors was seated by 10 a.m., but two were later excused on peremptory challenges by the attorneys.

Earlier, four more prospective jurors were examined before the panel of 12 was seated.

Elswick in Handcuffs

Representing the state in this trial is Marion County Prosecuting Attorney Ralph Carhart and his assistant, Robert O. Stout. Seated as the state's table with them this morning was Sheriff M. Glenn Obenour.

Elswick's attorney, appointed by the court, is Bernard C. Moloney. Elswick arrived shortly before Court was scheduled to begin at 9 a.m., his hands hand-cuffed at the wrists in the custody of Sheriff Obenour.

Elswick followed the proceedings with interest, his face turning from Judge Smith to the attorneys and the prospective jurors as the scene of action shifted.

Two Juveniles Missing From Marion Homes

City Police Search For Girl, 14, Missing Since Sunday; Boy, 15

A 15-year-old Marion youth and a 14-year-old Marion girl are reported missing today. Police Chief Thomas Coon said there is no connection between the disappearances.

Frank Robert Van Wey, 1012 Oak Grove Ave., was reported missing by Mrs. Frank Van Wey. The report said Van Wey's father dropped the youth off at 9:45 a.m. yesterday in Green Camp. He thought the boy was in school but he has not returned.

The youth, 5 ft-5 inches and 140 pounds, has sandy hair and brown eyes. He was wearing a blue shirt, blue overalls, brown shoes and a red jacket. He had about $1.50 with him.

Delbert Kerr, 920 E. Mark St., reported his step-daughter Phyllis Large, 14, missing at 3 p.m. yesterday. The police report said she went out Sunday evening, was not in school yesterday, and has not returned.

She was described as five feet five inches tall and weighing 120 pounds. She is a brunette.

Douglas Camps Out During His Hike to Capital

FORT FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—After a night of camping in the open, Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and 22 companions planned to hit the trail early today on their 184-mile hike along the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal to Washington.

The day's walk of about 26 miles was scheduled to take them as far as the Potomac Fish and Game Club at Falling Waters, W. Va., one of the longest single stretches since they left Cumberland, Md., last Saturday. It will put them within 100 miles of Washington, which they plan to reach by Saturday afternoon.

To keep it on the level, the starting point for today's hike was Ernstville, about four miles northwest of here where the main body stopped walking yesterday at 5 p.m. and rode into camp in the truck accompanying the party.

The reason, said Douglas, was because they got a late start from the Woodmont Rod and Gun Club, where they spent the previous night. They planned to start at 7 a.m., two hours earlier today, riding the truck back to Ernstville and walking from there.

The hike resulted from a challenge by the outdoors-loving justice to two Washington editorial writers who had favored a plan to construct a federal parkway along the route. Douglas contended it would mar the area's natural beauties and invited them to come along with him and see. They accepted.

Army Tightens Lines Against Security Risks

Officers Must Sign Loyalty Certificates, New Regulation Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has tightened its lines against possible infiltration by subversives.

It has issued a new order requiring all commissioned and warrant officers to sign fresh loyalty certificates and setting up machinery designed to prevent delays in handling cases of officers who either refuse to sign these documents or plead protection of the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions it asks.

Issued March 11

The new directive, disclosed by the Army yesterday, was issued March 11 under the signature of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff.

It states at one point that Secretary of the Army Stevens "does not consider it consistent" with national security to keep in military service anyone who refuses to say whether he has been a member of the Communist party or any subversive group.

There was no doubt that new order grew out of the case of Maj. Irving Peress, a New York dentist who was promoted and honorably discharged over the protest of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), who said Peress was a "Fifth Amendment Communist" and should be court-martialed. Peress who refused under oath to testify on alleged Communist connections, later said in a public statement that McCarthy's charges were "nonsense."

McCarthy Comments

Told of the new order, McCarthy commented to newsmen that in general it "sounds like a fine idea," but he said he wants to study it before saying more.

The order bars promotion, decoration, commendation, reassignment, separation or ordering to active duty of any person who does not fill out the prescribed loyalty certificate, pending final action in the case.

The certificate, revised Feb. 1, is much like the one in effect before, but it includes an updated list of organizations on the attorney general's subversive list.

The new order follows a directive Stevens put out a month ago declaring that refusal to sign or complete a loyalty certificate is considered enough of a basis to mark an officer as a security risk.

FBI Warns Police Of Possible Atomic Weapon Smuggling

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has warned the nation's police to be on guard against possible attempts to smuggle atomic weapons into the United States.

Hoover, it was learned last night, sent a letter to all police officers early this year giving them an idea of what to look for.

The letter, reportedly sent out with President Eisenhower's approval, contained descriptions of two atomic devices coupled with advice against amateur attempts to dismantle any suspicious device. The officers were urged to notify the nearest FBI office if they should discover such an object.

The U. S. Customs Service, which checks luggage of travelers at ports of entry, already is under orders to watch carefully for possible atomic weapons.

Fire Station

new truck is too high it can stop the purchase by not appropriating the money for it.

—:—

THE PETITION calling for the new fire station in the east section of the city suggested it could be built on the vacant site of the Forest Lawn School. The petition further stated it was felt the new station is needed to provide adequate protection for homes in the southeastern section of the city. It was referred to the Municipal Services and Finance Committees for further study and recommendations.

The recommendation of the Fire Prevention Committee was read by Rex Kilbourn, chairman. He said members of the committee felt Chief Sifritt's recommendations should be complied with.

In his annual report Chief Sifritt called for two new fire stations, one in the east end and another in the southwest section, an increase in the number of firemen, and purchase of a new chief's car, new pumper truck and a new service truck.

KILBOURN SAID the fire prevention committee felt that compliance with these recommendations actually would cost the taxpayers nothing. He said the increased taxes which might be necessary for the improvements would be offset by lower fire insurance rates.

He said that a National Board of Fire Underwriters survey of city fire protection in 1940 rated the fire department at only one-third of what it should be.

In further discussions, it was reported that Marion is now a Class 5 city in fire protection ratings. There are 10 classes with no city in the U.S. in the first class, it was reported by William C. Swearingen, an insurance agent, and member of the Fire Prevention committee. He stated that if Marion were to increase its fire protection enough to raise it into the fourth class, insurance rates would be lowered about five per cent.

Finance Committee Chairman Don Quaintance reported that compliance with all the recommendations is almost impossible, unless special bond issues for construction of the new stations and purchase of new equipment are approved by the voters.

Buses

slager reported only one person has disapproved the plan.

The proposal is for the businessmen to purchase a total of $50 worth of bus tokens a day for a maximum of 90 days to help defray an anticipated $100-a-day loss of the new company.

This loss was estimated by Chester E. Baker, president of Springfield City Lines, who hopes to start a new bus company in Marion, at a meeting held in city hall last week. He said his company is willing to risk loss of $50 a day if the businessmen will show their sincere desire for public transportation in the city by also risking a $50-a-day loss.

Actually, businessmen would not lose the entire $50 because restoration of bus service would bring more shoppers downtown and sales would increase, Baker explained. The bus tokens could be used as promotional advertising, he added.

Daily cost to individual merchants based on the volume of their business is estimated at between 17 cents and $2.75. This would continue for 90 days or less, Baker said. At the end of the 90-day trial period, the company would know whether it could continue to operate, he said. If the company isn't beginning to earn money by that time it will cease operations, he explained.

Only Delay

Presently the only delay in bringing negotiations with the Springfield company to an end is the completion of the polling of the businessmen for their approval of the plan.

John Schaffner, chairman of the retail board of managers, urged that all businessmen give their reply immediately so that bus service may be restored as quickly as possible. Baker said his company can have buses on the streets within a week or 10 days after the businessmen make their decision.

He said the board of managers hopes that a final summary of the replies may be made by Thursday or Friday. This will be followed by a conference with Baker and completion of necessary arrangements to start bus service as soon as possible.

In other action at yesterday's meeting, members were urged to take part in a farm visitation program planned by the Agricultural committee of the C. of C. for April 5. Members also discussed summer promotion programs designed to bolster sales of retail merchandise.

Veteran Texas Snake Hunter Fatally Bitten

WACO, Tex. (AP)—A 4½-foot rattler killed a veteran snake hunter who once called fear of snakes "nonsense."

J. Ed Johnson Jr., an authority on reptiles who long had watched the habits of the deadly rattler, died in a hospital here Sunday night 6 hours and 15 minutes after the rattlesnake sank its fangs into his hand.

It happened as Johnson and two friends hunted snakes in the Brazos River bottomlands 30 miles south of here.

Snake hunting was Johnson's hobby. He was Waco's city comptroller but had gained note as an expert on reptiles. He had tracked snakes more than 30 of his 48 years.

He had shipped thousands of reptiles to museums.

He was a member of the American Society of Ichyologists and Herpetologists, the Texas Herpetological League and other similar associations. Herpetology is the study of reptiles.

He once said, "Fear of snakes is nonsense."

Sunday, he and his two companions spotted four rattlers—all more than four feet long—in a deep ravine. One rattler was behind a rock.

John Sparks pinned it down. As Johnson started to slip a loop over its head, the snake sprang free and bit Johnson on the back of his hand. He jerked his hand away with such force the fangs stuck in the flesh.

As Sparks killed the snake with a rock, Johnson pulled the fangs out. They cut the wound and put a suction cup on it to draw the venom out.

It was 2 hours and 15 minutes before Johnson reached the hospital.

He once said, "I like people, but snakes are more interesting."

Prayers in New Mexico For Rain Are Answered

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — A gentle, soaking, blessed rain fell on parched New Mexico yesterday, starting a short time after prayers for rain were recited in churches throughout the state.

Last Friday, Archbishop Edwin V. Byrne ordered prayers for rain Sunday in all Catholic churches throughout the predominately Catholic state. The rain began Sunday night in the western portion of the state and reached the east side, hardest hit by the drought, last night.

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. said today its sales for the three months ended Jan. 31 were $218,190,068 and its estimated net income was $9,416,027, equal to $2.36 a share. During the similar period a year ago the company earned $9,811,458, equal to $2.47, on sales of $233,347,706.

He had been sentenced to death, but court appeals have delayed the execution.

Color X-Rays Newest Tool in Medical World

NEW YORK (AP)—Now you can get your X-ray pictures in color.

A system for making them, described as a significant new tool for medical science, was reported to the Institute of Radio Engineers today by Prof. R. Stuart Mackay of the University of California.

Experiments show the color X-ray pictures give more detail than the ordinary black and gray variety, he said in a paper prepared for presentation on the second day of the four-day session of the big international organization of electronics scientists.

The use of color is based on the fact that different materials absorb X-rays differently.

With the color technique, three ordinary X-ray pictures are taken of a part of the body, but a different wavelength of energy is used each time. The three pictures then are projected through three different color filters and superimposed to produce a single color image or photographic print.

In examining the color picture, the doctor is not interested in the esthetic effects but in what the color tells him on the absorption of X-rays by the various tissues that are shown.

Prof. Mackay said principles also have been worked out for direct viewing color fluoroscopy, and that showing of color X-ray pictures on color TV sets is being considered.

PAIR PLEAD GUILTY

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — James W. Johnson, 19, and Angil D. Osborne, 26, both of Akron, pleaded guilty to armed robbery yesterday and were sentenced to not less than 20 years in Mansfield reformatory. They were caught less than two hours after the nearby Uniontown Savings and Loan Co. was robbed of $1,800.

AUTO TAGS GO SLOWLY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — R. E. Foley, state registrar of motor vehicles, says with only a week until deadline more than half of Ohio's automobiles still are without 1954 license plates. Ohioans have been a little slower this year getting plates, Foley says. His office already is working on next year's license plates, which will feature white letters and numberals on a blue background.

Lenten Meditations

This is one in a series of Lenten meditations prepared by the members of the Marion County Ministerial Association for publication in The Star.

Glory of Discipleship

By MARY NISIEWICZ
Senior Captain of the Salvation Army

Rev. W. E. Sangster, noted English clergyman, gives us the reason Jesus never wrote a book. The verse he refers to is contained in the Gospel of Mark, chapter 8, verse 4. "And He ordained twelve that they might be with Him."

This is the glory of discipleship, that we might tarry with Him and then go forth to show Him to the world.

Too many make the mistake of trying to take Him to the world without first tarrying to receive His Spirit. They forget the words of warning, "If any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of His." This truth has been only too obvious in the affairs of men, even in the church.

We do not hug a furnace or a hot radiator for an hour a week and expect to be kept warm for a long cold seven days. But yet we try to absorb enough spiritual fervor on a Sunday in one short hour to last all week. This explains the spirit of indifference that accompanies the efforts of many Christians.

"They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength." Our spiritual strength tends to be dissipated in the everyday affairs of life. The drain is constant. Therefore our strength must be renewed by a daily waiting upon God.

No, Jesus wrote no book, formulated no creed, passed no law. But He sought to impress His Spirit on human personalities, twelve in His own lifetime, millions through the ages. But all by the same process, waiting with Him to drink of His Spirit.

PRAYER: Help us, O God, today and every day, to tarry with Thee that we might show forth Thy power in our lives. In Jesus name we pray. Amen.

Mt. Gilead, Sycamore Players Win All-State Honors

Ted Moody, Shell Listed In AP Vote

Sycamore's Vaughn Shell and Ted Moody of Mount Gilead today were included in the Associated Press' All-Ohio Class B cage selections.

Shell nailed down a berth on the third team while the Indians' ace was among the honorable mention selections.

Four seniors and a junior make up the first team selections, the hefiest and highest scoring aggregation in the history of the selections The era of race horse offense opened the way for a quintet of the state's finest performers who averaged more than 30 points each.

Bogenrife Tops

Topping the ballot by sportswriters, sportscasters and coaches from all parts of the state was Dick Bogenrife, much sought after senior from Midway who scored more than 800 points during 21 regular season games. Last year, when he was named as a junior, the 6-2 machine scored 120 markers in a single game.

Paired with Bogenrife at forward is New Waterford's Wynn Hawkins, who has been termed as good a player as Bevo Francis during his high school career at Wellsville. Hawkins is a top-notch defensive player and finished by averaging 36 points a game despite a cracked ankle and broken wrist suffered during the season.

Rex Leach of Vienna is the only junior performer in the top five. The 17-year-old, 6-4 hook shot artist led his mates to an unblemished mark during the regular season. H averaged 26 points in each of the 26 games.

Oak Hill's Adrian "Stretch" Hayes takes a guard position to repeat from last year's selections. Hayes pumped in 579 points during a 20-game grind and was the Oaks' top rebounder. His defensive play also helped his mates.

The other guard spot was awarded Dean Cluxton of New Vienna. A varsity performer for four years, Cluxton blossomed into a full-blown star this year and led his mates to a 17-2 mark as he averaged 31 points in each game. During one tournament game, he poured in 50 points.

196 Nominated

Of approximately 12,000 Class B cagers in the state, 196 were nominated for All-Ohio honors. Selections were based on pre-tournament play and team records played no part in the voting.

Bob Pack of Nelsonville was tops in the voting for second team positions and was named captain of the team. The other second team forward was Charles Putnam of Ohio City, who performed for a team with a 1-19 record. Mike Allen, towering 6-8 center for New Lexington St. Aloysius was the pick at pivot while the guard slots were filled by Ralph Elwer of Delphos St. Johns and Mario DeMatties of Waynesburg.

Harry Fitzpatrick of Lancaster St. Mary, Larry Wolfe of Racine and Virgil Thompson of Lockland Wayne tied for the top number of third string votes.

Barney Altman of Delphos also was named to an honorable mention post. Players from the Central District tournament mentioned in the voting included Frank Murphy of Newark St. Francis, Roger Noble of Liberty Union, George Reichert of Hebron and Keith Brown of Bremen.

Feared 'Bloodshed'

Oliver Removes Rio Squad From Floor, Blasts Officials

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The West All-Stars scored a routine victory in the Shriners' annual East-West basketball game last night but an unorthodox maneuver by Rio Grande's Newt Oliver overshadowed the players' activities.

The West's 81-73 triumph came as an anti-climax to Coach Oliver's actions during a preliminary game involving Rio Grande, the small Ohio college starring Bevo Francis, and Rockhurst College of Kansas City.

With a little less than two minutes remaining Oliver, protesting the officiating, took his team off the court. Rockhurst was listed in the official scorebook as winning the game 56-50.

The officials twice assessed technical fouls against the Rio Grande coach just before the walkout. One came after he had leaped from the bench and shouted at an official about a foul called on one of his players. The second was assessed after he had thrown his coat on the floor and rushed onto the court with another protest.

A. O Duer, executive director of the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics, said Oliver's actions were in bad taste.

"You just don't do these things," Duer commented. "No matter what the call, the coach has to control his team and play the game."

Rio Grande is a member of the NAIA.

Oliver said he did not pull off his team "in protest of any particular referee's call."

"I was afraid my boys were going to get hurt. The game was completely out of hand," he said. "I was afraid of bloodshed."

The officials were Vic Glennon and Charles James, both of Kansas City.

"We work the game according to the book," Glennon said later. "When a man gets out of line, we have to call a technical foul. That's all there is to it. We try to call the plays as we see them and we expect the boys to play the way college boys should play."

Bevo Francis, who has a season average of 48 points per game, tallied 28 for Rio Grande.

In the All-Star game, All America Bob Pettit of Louisiana State led the West with 21 points.

Weather Stops Comeback Bid By Newhouser

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Manager Al Lopez might decide to keep Pitcher Hal Newhouser on the Cleveland Indians roster just in case he ever wants to postpone a game.

Newhouser left the Detroit Tigers because of a sore arm and Lopez does not want him to put his comeback attempts to a test until he can work on a warm, sunny day.

But the last three times Lopez scheduled Newhouser to throw bad weather turned up—and in the most unexpected places.

It was chilly in Los Angeles Sunday when Hal was slated to work against the New York Giants. Rain canceled yesterday's game at Yuma where Hal was set to work against Baltimore.

And after Lopez announced Newhouser would pitch here today against Baltimore he got a telephone call that it was raining in Tucson.

OHIO GIRLS LOSE

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Nashville Business College defeated Ohio Casualty Co. of Hamilton 55-32 yesterday in a first round game of the National Women's AAU Basketball Tournament. Betty Spears, Nashville center, scored 31 points. Carolyn McKenney scored 14 for Hamilton.

WINS AT 16 UNDER

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Professional Leo Biagetti of Sandusky, Ohio, teamed with three Miami amateurs yesterday to win the one-day La Gorce County Club Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament with a best ball score of 27-28—55. The team was 16 under par.

SHORT SPORTS
By John Short

The Marion Barons ended their first hockey season Sunday and despite a successful season here the finish was disappointing to many fans.

SHORT

The Barons opened the seven - game playoff series with a surprising 4-3 win on the Cincinnati team's home rink. They lost the second game on their own ice 5-3 and when the Mohawks went into a one-game lead, the Barons, from all outward appearances called it a season.

Trailing only two games to one, the Marion entry served notice early in the game here Saturday night that it had little hope of winning the best-of-seven set. Even before the opening score in the Saturday game, the Barons showed more interest in clobbering the Mohawks than beating them. At least three of the Marion skaters devoted their full attention to roughing up the visitors rather than knotting the series. As a result the Mohawks moved into 3-1 lead and set the stage for the clincher Sunday.

Staunch Baron boosters have been insisting that Marion went into the second playoff game with its chances shot when Gordie Vejprava was lost. Those same people began howling that the Barons' chances had evaporated last December when Jerry Prince was lost.

Two weeks after the loss of Prince, who had just hit his expected scoring stride, Paul Emms left the club and since his departure on Dec. 20, the Barons finished by winning 30 of 47 games while playing shorthanded.

For over two-thirds of the campaign, the Barons played with only two lines and part of another and still managed to climb from a tie for the IHL cellar on Nov. 9 to the runnerup spot in the regular league race. On Nov. 9, the Marion club hit its lowest mark of the season and was deadlocked with Louisville, Grand Rapids and Milwaukee.

Despite the howling on the part of some fans that the team was heavily handicapped by being shorthanded, we, along with many boosters, are wondering if maybe the Barons' mental attitude didn't contribute greatly to the other four straight playoff losses.

Stan Musial Sets Sights On Hit Title

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Stan Musial, who failed to win his seventh National League batting championship last year only because he got off to a slow start, apparently is aiming to begin with a bang this season.

The slugging St Louis Cardinals' outfielder slammed a home run, a triple and a single and batted in seven runs yesterday as the Redbirds walloped the Philadelphia Phillies 9-3 for their eighth victory in 14 exhibition games

He batted .336 in 1953 to finish third behind Brooklyn's Carl Furillo and teammate Red Schoendienst but if it wasn't for his early season slump which left him with a .247 average after the first two months he conceivably could have wound up far in front.

Yesterday's game was a close one until Musial drove relief pitcher Duke Markell's second pitch out of the park with two mates aboard in the fourth inning It was his third home run of the spring

Schoendienst, too, had his hand in the scoring, hitting a triple and a single and knocking in one of the tallies, Lefty Harvey Haddix was the winning pitcher and rookie Bob Greenwood the loser.

Elsewhere, the question of "Who's on first?" for the Boston Red Sox may soon be answered if Dick Gernert keeps up his present pace.

Gernert socked two home runs, the second a game-winning one, as the Red Sox edged the Milwaukee Braves 4-3.

The Cincinnati Redlegs roughed up right-hander Dick Donovan for three hits and three runs in the second inning and defeated the Detroit Tigers 4-3. The victory was a costly one, however, as shortstop Roy McMillan suffered a severe cut on his right instep requiring 22 stitches to close. He is expected to be back in uniform in five days, but may not see action for two weeks.

The New York Yankees, seemingly back in form, knocked out southpaw Alex Kellner in the fifth inning and went on to drub the Philadelphia Athletics 12-6. Rookies Bob Cerv and Bill Skowron led the champions' attack with four hits apiece.

Rocky is in Grossinger for some preliminary training for his scheduled title defense against former champion Ezzard Charles in New York next June.

Cincinnati Ace Spiked, Out for 10-Day Period

SARASOTA, Fla (AP) — Roy McMillan, spiked in the right instep yesterday by Detroit catcher Johnny Bucha, will be out of the Cincinnati Red lineup for another 10 days.

It was the second spring exhibition injury for the 23-year-old shortstop McMillan's left shoulder was badly bruised in the opening Grapefruit Circuit game with the Chicago White Sox and he did not get back into action until last Sunday.

Doctors sewed 22 stitches into McMillan's ankle to close the gaping wound.

Grady Hatton playing second for the Reds, said Bucha slid several feet out of the base line in order to cut down Roy, in the midst of making a double play in the second inning.

Pitchers Howie Judson and Saul Rogovin allowed Detroit nine hits in downing the Tigers 4-3. Judson looked good, but Rogovin was shaky.

Seif Reports, 2 Others Ready To Begin Drills

GALION — One of Galion's three hopefuls for big league baseball careers, Ray Seif, has arrived at a southern training camp with the minor league farms of the Cleveland Indians. The other two, Bill Enders and Randall Vance, are expecting to leave within the next two weeks. They saw service last season with minor league teams of the New York Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics.

Seif was the outstanding pitcher last season with the Class C Northern baseball league and this year has a contract with Reading, Pa., Cleveland farm team in the Class A Eastern loop

Seif left Cleveland for the plane trip to Daytona Beach, Fla., for spring training after he finished the winter quarter at Ohio State University, and paid a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs Howard Seif. He was married last fall to Miss Beverly Dickerson of Galion.

LaSalle Second

Kentucky's Squad Finishes At Top of Collegiate Ranks

NEW YORK (AP) — Kentucky's unbeaten basketball team, which refrained from tournament competition this year, came out ahead of the two national tournament winners, LaSalle and Holy Cross, in the final Associated Press ranking poll of the 1953-54 season today.

The Kentucky Wildcats, topping 71 of the 138 ballots cast by sports writers and broadcasters throughout the nation, captured the No 1 ranking by the very small margin of 32 points from LaSalle's Explorers, the newly crowned National Collegiate Athletic Assn. champions

Holy Cross, the surprise winner of the National Invitation Tournament, was a strong third, with Indiana, the 1953 NCAA champion and a strong preseason favorite, fourth.

The final count, on the basis of 10 points for each first-place ballot nine for second, eight for third, etc, gave Kentucky 1,110 points and La Salle 1,078, Holy Cross drew 914 points and Indiana 835

By finishing on top, Kentucky retained the spot it had held in 12 of 16 weekly polls throughout the season, Indiana, tabbed as the likely winner in the preseason poll, held onto the No. 1 spot for two weeks before suffering its first defeat Duquesne moved to the front for a couple of weeks late in the season then ran into two setbacks and dropped behind again.

Kentucky won 25 straight games during the regular season, including a playoff with Louisiana State for the Southeastern Conference championship, but declined to enter the NCAA Tournament, for which it qualified automatically. The reason was that three postgraduate players, eligible for conference competition, were not eligible under NCAA regulations.

The influence of postseason tournament results on the voting was seen in La Salle's rise to second place at the finish. The Explorers, in and out of the first 10 during the regular season and at times unable to muster enough points to make the first 20, moved up to sixth place a week ago when they entered the NCAA semifinals. After whipping Penn State and Bradley soundly to win the title, they jumped up to second.

Holy Cross, which advanced to third place on the strength of its NIT victory, held onto that place while Indiana, still highly regarded, slid back to fourth.

In addition, Duquesne, the NIT runner-up and the second and third-place teams in the NCAA Tournament also earned top-10 ranking in the final poll.

Duquesne finished fifth, followed by Notre Dame, upsetter of Indiana in NCAA play, Bradley, the NCAA runner-up, Western Kentucky, an NIT entry; Penn State, third in the NCAA, and Oklahoma A & M, loser to Bradley in the NCAA second round. Southern California, the fourth NCAA semifinalist, was 11th in the balloting.

The final ranking of the leading teams (first-place votes in parentheses

1.	Kentucky (71)	1,110

State Attorney General Talks To Lions Club

O'Neill Describes Anti-Subversive Law And Narcotics Probe

The attorney general of Ohio, C. William O'Neill, was guest speaker at the Marion Lions Club weekly luncheon meeting Monday at Hotel Harding.

He spoke on the new Anti-Subversive Law which went into effect in Ohio in November, 1953. The law makes crime of advocating the overthrow of the state or federal governments and knowingly belonging to organizations which advocate their overthrow.

O'Neill explained the duties of the attorney general's office in regard to this law, which consist of investigating and presenting evidence to grand juries of violation of those sections of the law.

The speaker also discussed the narcotics investigation being handled by his office, which is to report to the legislature in order that they may draw up new laws covering narcotics violations in this state. Pointing up the problem of narcotics, he told of case histories that have been uncovered in Ohio and the various problems which exist in the state.

O'Neill stated that investigations in his office have not been headline hunting investigations, but rather investigations for facts which could be turned over to the legislature in order that more effective legislature could be drawn concerning the narcotics problem in Ohio.

Guests of the club were Hugh Kirkwood, assistant attorney general of Ohio, formerly of Marion, Kenneth Robinson, Marion County representative to the General Assembly, Tom Johnstone of Lima, Allen Callahan of Mount Gilead, Elmer Whalen of Columbus, Harold Laren of Minneapolis, Minn., and Don Bly of Tiffin.

Cage Finalists Prep for Shot At State Crown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Basketballs were flying all over Ohio today as four Class A and four Class B quintets, qualifiers for the Friday - Saturday state high school tourney in Cleveland put the finishing touches on their preparations.

It's the 32nd round ball classic staged by the Ohio High School Athletic Assn., and marks the first time the event has been held in Cleveland. Prior to 1923 Delaware High School and Ohio Wesleyan University sponsored 14 invitational state title tournaments.

As usual, the larger cities have been shut out, only Columbus and Canton of the 10 most populous towns being represented. In the 31 years of state association play, and the 14 at Delaware, no team from Cleveland, Toledo, Cincinnati, Youngstown, Canton or Lakewood, 6 of the top 10 has ever triumphed.

Only 4 of the 8 finalists have ever reached the big playoffs before. New Lexington St. Aloysius, Westmont and Copley of the Class B quartet are making their first appearance, but the fourth one, Delphos St. John's, won the title in 1949, and is in for the fifth time.

Kent Roosevelt is the only tyro in Class A. Columbus South made it for the fourth time. Hamilton's 1937-1949 champions for the 10th and Canton McKinley's Bulldogs for the 15th. McKinley has reached the final game 4 times, and lost each time.

This could be a "blue" tournament. New Lexington is nicknamed the "Blue Knights," Delphos the "Blue Jays," and Hamilton the "Big Blue." Canton and Columbus are both "Bulldogs." Kent the "Rough Riders," Westmont the "Wildcats' and Copley the "Indians."

Delaware Diamond Campaign To Open

RADNOR — Opening round action in the Delaware County Baseball League will be played Thursday afternoon with three games on tap. Each team will play eight league games through the season which ends April 26.

Radnor's Trojans are the defending league champions and will be seeking their third straight pennant. The two mainstays of last year's Trojan mound corps are back for another fling. Lowell Taylor and Charley Gray will handle most of the hurling in Radnor's title bid.

Scioto has furnished the stiffest competition for the Trojans during the past two years and are expected to wage a bitter fight again. Big Walnut and Olentangy, the two largest schools in the county, are expected to be pennant contenders but an estimate of their strength is hard to determine until play opens. Elm Valley was hard hit by graduation last spring and will be forced to depend mainly on underclassmen.

Opening games Thursday will send Elm Valley to Radnor with Big Walnut playing host to Olentangy and Scioto setting out the bye. Games on March 29 will see Radnor at Olentangy, Scioto at Elm Valley and Big Walnut with a bye while games on April 1 have Olentangy at Scioto and Big Walnut at Radnor with a bye to Elm Valley.

The rest of the league chase follows: April 5, Scioto at Big Walnut, Elm Valley at Olentangy, Radnor, bye; April 8, Radnor at Scioto, Big Walnut at Elm Valley, Olentangy, bye; April 12, Elm Valley at Scioto, Olentangy at Radnor, Big Walnut, bye; April 26, Scioto at Radnor, Elm Valley at Big Walnut, Olentangy, bye; April 15, Radnor at Elm Valley, Big Walnut at Olentangy, Scioto, bye; April 20, Big Walnut at Scioto, Olentangy at Elm Valley, Radnor, bye; and April 22, Scioto at Olentangy, Radnor at Big Walnut and Elm Valley, bye.

Chain Letter Warning Given By Postmaster

Warning the public concerning the "nuisance" of chain letters, with a new crop appearing in the local mails lately, Postmaster Homer D. Cole emphasized today the illegal nature of such mail.

"Against the postal laws and regulations," he said, commenting on the status of this type of letter which is unsigned. Besides being "bad psychology" and "supersitition" these letters "do no one any good," he added.

Any chain letter which comes into the hands of the postmaster is turned over to the post office inspector at Cincinnati who, if the origin and senders can be determined, will "make an issue of it."

In reference to threatening "bad luck if this chain is broken," and promise of "good luck within four days if four copies of this letter are sent to friends within 24 hours," Mr. Cole remarked that "People know better if they would stop to think." The number of such letters going through the mail always decreases after a public warning from the Postoffice Department, he said.

Chicago Man Jailed in Fatal Crash at Xenia

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—A Chicago man police say accidentially caused the death of a Yellow Springs businessman while fleeing law officers was being held on manslaughter charges today.

Authorities said Raymond D. Murray, 35, who identified himself as a newspaper advertising salesman, crashed a red light in downtown Xenia yesterday while trying to elude Noble County Sheriff Donald Conaway and Deputy Donald Thomas.

The car Murray was driving hit one driven by J. E. Drake, 51, president of the Drake Milling Machine Co. Drake was killed.

Conaway, enroute to Louisville, Ky., from Caldwell to pick up a prisoner, said he noticed Murray shortly after hearing of a car theft over his police radio.

The sheriff and his deputy chased Murray into Xenia, where Conaway said the Chicago man ran a red light. He said Murray fled after the accident and was captured in a nearby garage an hour later.

Murray said he had worked for the Chicago Sun-Times and the Chicago Daily News and was in Cincinnati to take a job with the Cincinnati Enquirer.

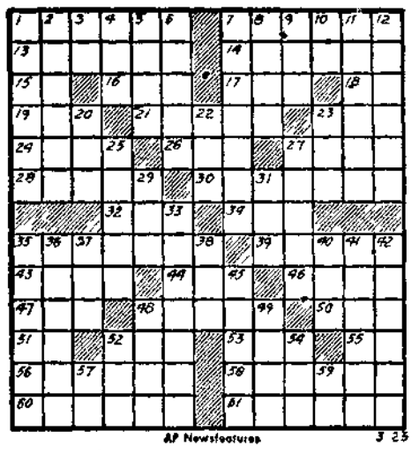
Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle



Sea Could Feed World

The seas pastures could feed the world well — if they could be harvested

At present the reapers of the billions of tons of minute plant and animal life are fish and whales Both are quite inefficient

Thus a small pilo whale which was about seven feet long when placed in a Florida aquarium died nine months later after growing a foot in length and adding 200 pounds To achieve this growth it had eaten seven tons of squid — more than 70 times its own increase in weight

Antarctic seas are red for square mile after square mile with the minute organism called krill They make the cold parts of the world the great whale playground But krill could more efficiently be used directly as human food — if man had any way of harvesting the millions and millions of tons of it

According to a United Nations survey of food problems more than half the world's population gets less than 15 grams of animal protein daily compared to the desirably minimum of 40 to 50 grams

With the present rate of population increase about 1 per cent a year a gross increase of nearly 50 per cent must be made in the production of sea food Most of this increase is needed in countries at present underdeveloped — the Far East, Near East and Africa

Neither fish nor whales however encouraged can be expected to act as efficient harvesters for man it is concluded Harvesting of the oceans minute plants and animals would fill the bill — but also would require apparatus not yet on the horizon

The Kansas City zoo has difficulty finding someone to stuff its deceased hippopotamus although we should think the job would challenge any taxidermist the way Mount Rushmore did Gutzon Borglum

Hospital Board Lets Contracts On Furnishings

Equipment Costing $47,305 Purchased For New Building

Contracts totaling $47,305 for furnishings and equipment for the new Marion General Hospital have been awarded four companies, E. L. Mitchell, secretary of the hospital building commissioners, announced today.

Largest of the four contracts went to the Columbus Hospital Supply Co. for patient room furnishings including beds, dressers, chairs, foot stools, and flower tables. It was for $29,494.11.

The A. S. Aloe Co. of St. Louis was awarded a contract for $8,696 50 for a portion of the bedroom furnishings.

Together the two contracts provide for all major furnishings and equipment for patient rooms. There were a total of five bids for the patient rooms furnishings with all but one in the $38,000 class. Total of the Aloe and Columbus Hospital Supply bids was $38,190.

Other contracts awarded were to the Remington-Rand Co. of Columbus for an accounting machine and accessories totaling $5,001.55 and the American Sterilizer Co. of Erie, Pa. for two operating tables and accessories totaling $4,112.

The Remington-Rand Co. bid on the accounting machine was the highest of three bids received but was the only one which met all specifications of the building commissioners, Mitchell said. Other bids received were from the Burroughs Manufacturing Co of Detroit and the National Cash Register Co. of Mansfield.

The American Sterilizer Co. bid was the only one received on the operating table.

Other furnishings and equipment which still must be purchased are an X-ray machine, dental clinic equipment, refinishing of usable furnishings from the present City Hospital, and numerous other small items.

Students in Ohio Urged To Enter Teaching Field

By BILL TERRY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio has 47 colleges and universities approved for some field of teacher education.

That's one of the points being made by Harold J. Bowers, supervisor of teacher education and certification of the state education department in his campaign to get 1 out of every 7 high school graduates to prepare for teaching.

Well Located

"These institutions are so well located that no matter where one lives in Ohio, he is within 50 miles of a teacher education institution," Bowers says.

Not everyone can qualify to teach. Bowers lists as requisites good health, a pleasant personality, good grades in school, and emotional stability.

"In addition to these basic qualifications," he writes, "a prospective teacher should possess . . . an interest in and love for children, a sense of humor, patience, sympathy, cheerfulness and intellectual honesty."

Many of these qualities are developed after a student leaves high school and prepares for teaching.

What about salaries?

In Ohio, teachers with equal training and experience get the same salary, regardless of the subjects or grades they teach, under the minimum single salary schedule. But most school systems pay more than the minimums.

Average Figures

Bowers says averages are misleading but quotes them for what they are worth. The average salary paid Ohio elementary school teachers in 1953-54 was $3,688, and that for high school teachers was $4,166. The average for all teachers was $3,877, compared to the average for all teachers in the United States of $3,725.

"The starting salaries paid teachers compares very favorably with starting salaries paid college graduates in any other field of work," Bowers said. "On the other hand, increases are not as substantial and frequent and do not approach the maximum earned by many professional and skilled workers."

Ten years ago the average Ohio elementary school teacher received $1,630, while the average high school teacher got $1,955.

Periodic Raises

Teachers get regular raises for 5 years, and some schools grant annual increases for 10 or more years. Promotions to positions of greater responsibility or prestige come "as a result of demonstrated ability to teach, hard work and preparation for the job ahead."

Not many years ago women teachers had to give up their jobs when they got married. Not so in every case today, because the shortage of teachers has helped change the public's attitude toward married teachers. Ohio now has 19,090 married women as teachers.

Other "sales points" of Bowers in seeking new teachers:

Teaching does not seem to jeopardize a woman's opportunity to get married.

Training Expenses

Teacher training expenses including tuition, fees, board and room are estimated to average about $1,000 a year, but they vary with the college chosen. Many scholarships are available.

Contracts with teachers prevent their being dismissed for trivial reasons.

Ohio law provides that each full time teacher shall be entitled for each completed month of service to sick leave of 1¼ work days with pay. Unused sick leave can be built up to 90 days.

Boards of education can grant a leave of absence up to two consecutive school years for educational or professional or other purposes.

The state teachers' retirement system is regarded as among the best in the nation and covers all regular public school teachers.

Ballerina Mice Aid Research Cancer Studies

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

BAR HARBOR, Maine (AP)—Mice that do a ballet step are the latest aides in the war on cancer.

Dr. Margaret Dickie today described discovery of a variety of mice that "pirouette" continually, just like a ballerina.

And she said that studies of this "ballerina mouse" not only offered opportunities for probing the cause of cancer but also such neuromuscular diseases as multiple sclerosis.

Dr. Dickie of the Jackson Memorial Cancer Research Laboratory here, told about it at a conference with reporters making a nationwide tour of research projects sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Movies of the ballerina mice show them in real form.

The mice constantly twirl or "pirouette" in contrast to the normal motion of a mouse, which is back and forth.

Dr. Dickie indicated that the study of this unusual motion might help determine what differentiates the normal cell from the malignant one, as in cancer.

Scientists of the Jackson laboratory told reporters that a million mice are bred there each year for various purposes, and that these constitute about three fourths of all the mice used in cancer research throughout the nation.

Ohio Edison Co. To Expand Lorain Power Plant

Addition Will House New Generator, Doubling Output of Energy

Walter H. Sammis, president of Ohio Edison Co., announced Monday that a new $16,000,000 addition will be built to the company's Edgewater power plant in Lorain.

The addition will house a new 90,000 - kilowatt turbo - generating unit, which will generate nearly as much power as the total of the three units now in operation in the plant. These three units have a total generating capacity of 99,000 kilowatts.

ACCORDING TO present plans, orders for the new boiler and generating equipment will be placed shortly. Construction at the plant is expected to start this fall, and the addition is scheduled to be completed in the fall of 1957.

The present substation at the Lorain plant will be enlarged to handle the increased power for transmission over Ohio Edison's interconnected power system. This system serves a large section of Ohio, including the cities of Akron, Alliance, Ashland, Barberton, Elyria, Kent, Lorain, Mansfield, Marion, Massillon, Port Clinton, Ravenna, Salem, Sandusky, Springfield, Warren and Youngstown and adjacent areas.

The new turbo-generator, together with its boiler and auxiliary equipment, will embody the latest in engineering design and efficiency. The mammoth boiler will provide 690,000 pounds of steam per hour at a temperature of 1,C'0 degrees F. and a pressure of 1,450 pounds per square inch to drive the turbine.

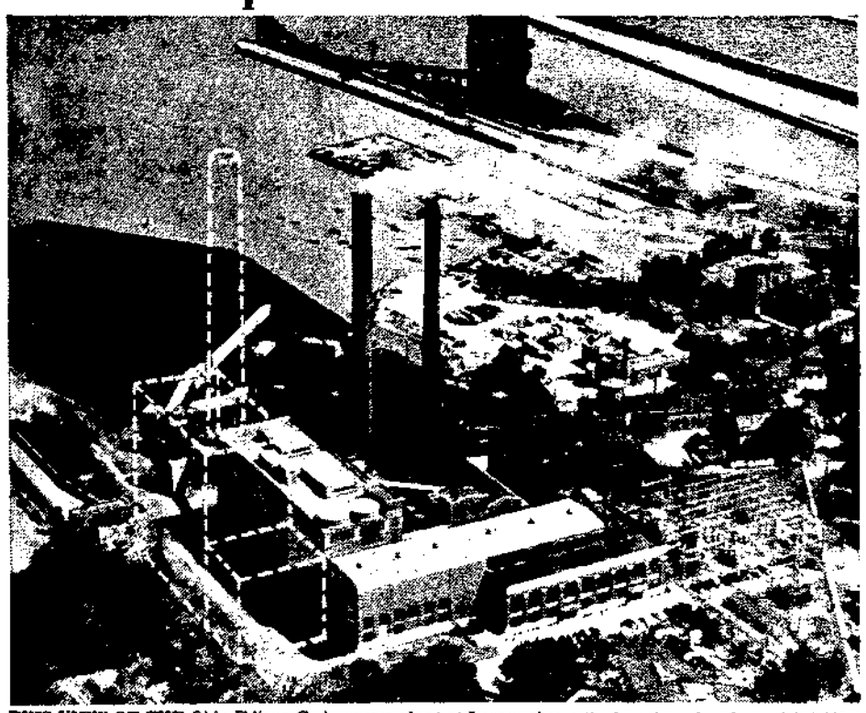
TO COOL THE STEAM after it passes through the turbine, a condenser will be installed through which 60,000 gallons of water per minute will be circulated from Lake Erie.

Ohio Edison Co. recently put into operation a new 106,000-kilowatt generating unit and has under construction an additional 376,000 kilowatts of generating capacity. The new unit went into operation on Jan. 1, at the company's new Niles, O., power plant, and another unit of the same size is scheduled for operation in the spring of this year. At the company's R. E. Burger power plant on the Ohio River in Belmont County, O., two units of 135,000 kilowatts' capacity each are being installed, one scheduled for operation in December, 1954; the second in the spring of 1955.

All of these projects are part of the biggest construction program in the Edison Company's history. Already, the power supply on the Edison Company system has more than doubled since the end of World War II, and will be further increased by the construction projects now under progress.



THIS VIEW OF THE Ohio Edison Co.'s power plant at Lorain shows the location of a planned $16,000,000 expansion project.

Tree's Cooling Effect Measured by Science

DAVIS, Calif. (UP) — A tree's shadow can cool bare ground by more than 30 degrees in five minutes, experiments at the University of California school of agriculture have shown.

Robert B. Deering, assistant professor of landscape management, said shade trees naturally turn their leaves to the sun to capture energy for manufacturing food. This phenomenon produces a great amount of shade and a large body of air under the trees which is cooler than surrounding air.

Some tree crops are harvested about every 100 years.

Woman Farmer, 66, Still Too Busy, Won't Retire

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP) — Mrs. Blanche Stoker laughs off those who suggest that she retire, now that she's old enough.

Mrs. Stoker, at 66, is too busy operating her 40-acre cattle farm. She has been farming since her husband died 31 years ago, and she still gets out in the fields like any other farmer. She's been known to pick 400 pounds of cotton a day and keep up with her housework also.

Now, the farm is producing beef cattle and Mrs. Stoker runs a tractor and bales hay better than many men.

Winter is not Mrs. Stoker's favorite season. She says she got stiff last winter from lack of hard work, and it took her some time in the sping to get the stiffness worked out.

During the winter, all she has to do is feed the cattle, milk, mend fences and a few other chores.

When she can get away from the farm she likes to hunt and fish. She cultivates a large garden and buys only a few staples from groceries. Everything else she raises herself.

TWO BY TWO

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP) — Capt. and Mrs. Louis R. Oppenheimer, married 11 years without children, adopted twin German boys last April. Ten months later, Mrs. Oppenheimer gave birth to twins.

Around Council's Table

Marion City Council adopted 11 pieces of legislation, sent one ordinance back to committee, gave another a first reading and considered other items of business at its meeting Monday night in city hall.

Card-Playing Ordinance

Question of what types of card-playing is affected by a recently-enacted anti-card playing ordinance came up prior to passage of one resolution.

The resolution in question concerned authorization of City Solicitor George Piacentino to defend the city in an injunction hearing in Marion County Common Pleas Court. Filed by O. V. Messenger and six other Marion men, the suit questions the constitutionality of the anti-card playing ordinance. The ordinance was adopted by Council recently at a special meeting after Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche wrote Mayor Harold F. Robinson with a complaint of a juvenile gambling away his weekly earnings in card games in the city.

Councilman Harold Fralich, Sixth Ward, brought up the question concerning who the anti-card playing law affects. He asked if it would be enforced against a group playing bridge at the YMCA.

City Solicitor George Piacentino said the law specifically prohibits all card playing regardless of its nature or who sponsors it when the game is conducted in any public place.

Card games played in private clubs or homes do not fall under this law, he explained.

Fralich said he had asked the question because several people had called him and questioned whether or not benefit card games were subject to the law. Piacentino said in his opinion the purpose of the game would have no bearing on it. As long as the game was public, police could arrest those participating, he said.

Council unanimously approved the resolution authorizing Piacentino to defend the city in the injunction suit.

Park Ordinance

An ordinance calling for appropriation of $3,000 for purchase of equipment for use in the city parks was given a first reading.

Don Quaintance, Fifth Ward, chairman of the finance committee, said his committee recommended the ordinance be considered as regular legislation with three readings rather than emergency legislation requiring only one reading.

His reason for this request, he explained, was because appropriation of the money for equipment would mean no money for continuance of a supervised playground program in the parks this year.

The committee felt that the playground program had not shown "outstanding" results in recent years and therefore purchase of equipment with which to maintain the parks would be a better expenditure of the available money this year, he said.

Because others may object to this on the basis the playground program is more important than maintenance, Quaintance said his committee recommended three readings to give those objecting a chance to present their arguments to Council.

New Clerk Authorized

Two ordinances establishing the position and appropriating funds to pay the salary of an assistant deputy clerk in Municipal Court were approved unanimously.

Passage of the ordinance setting up the new position came after Don Quaintance, finance committee chairman, reported the volume of business of the court has increased six times since 1940 while the expenses have increased only about "two and one - half times." In the face of these facts, he said his committee felt an additional employe was justifiable.

Tied to the salary appropriation ordinance of $1,800 for the balance of this year was a section for appropriation of money to pay 1952 and 1953 state taxes on part of the Marion Municipal Airport land. It too provided for $1,800 expenditure or a total of $3,600.

Piacentino explained that the taxes on the airport had been reduced some $300 a year by claiming exemption on part of the property used publicly. The remainder of the land taxes—amounting to a total of some $900 a year — were for property used for farming and other nonpublic purposes, Piacentino said.

New Motorcycle Okayed

An ordinance authorizing the safety-service director to purchase a new three-wheel motorcycle for use of the police department was unanimously approved.

Discussion leading up to the approval also called for amending the ordinance. As presented to Council, the legislation called for trading in a two-wheel motorcycle presently in disrepair. This was corrected by an amendment to the ordinance.

Quaintance questioned whether or not the police department would have the necessary personnel to man the motorcycle even if it were purchased. He was assured by both Mayor Robinson and Safety-Service Director Ralph Forrest that the department could man the motorcycle with its present complement.

Laws Extended

A resolution adopted unanimously provides that all city laws will apply to city-owned property located outside the city limits. In answer to a question by Fralich, City Solicitor Piacentino explained that this means that all street and sanitary laws and all other laws in the city code book apply to such properties as Municipal Airport, the Veterans Housing Project and any other such property located outside the city limits.

Alley Petitions

Two petitions requesting both the opening and the closing of another alley were explained.

The committee recommended that the alley, located between Windsor St. and Blaine Ave. south of Duluth Ave. be closed. However, Ralph Williams, Fourth Ward and chairman of the committee, and Quaintance both explained that the recommendation was made only to bring the matter to a head. Williams said all but one of the property owners on Windsor St. living north of 748 Blaine Ave. had asked that the alley be closed. Property owners on Blaine Ave. north from 748 to Duluth asked that the alley be opened, he said.

Piacentino said in such cases the proposed vacation must be advertised and public meetings held to determine whether or not to close the alley.

Alley Vacated

An ordinance vacating an alley between Windsor and Cherry Sts. just north of Bellefontaine Ave. was adopted unanimously. Councilman Quaintance of the streets and alleys committee, said the committee recommended adoption of the vacation ordinance. He said this was because the alley is not needed and is more or less a surplus alley. Another exists a short distance further north, he said. All abutting property owners had signed a petition requesting the vacation.

Traffic Light Asked

Request of three men that a traffic light be installed at E. Center and Vine Sts. was referred to the utilities committee and the city traffic commissions for further study. Arguments advanced by Rev. W. C. Eyster, pastor of Epworth Methodist Church, J. E. Oliphant and Homer Waddell were that the light is needed to slow down traffic on E. Center St. They said church members find it difficult crossing the street on Sunday morning and that traffic speeds through the intersection during week days.

Bequest Spent

An ordinance authorizing expenditure of a bequest left to City Hospital by the late Florence S. Durfee was unanimously approved. The bequest was accepted by Council in a resolution adopted Feb. 22. The ordinance adopted Monday night provides for purchase of a floor scrubber and polisher with the money. Cost of the machine is $357.

Damage Claims

A claim of Dr. J. J. Brown of 345 S. Main St. for $250 damage from sewer water backing up into his basement was referred to the sewer committee for study and recommendation. Brown claimed he spent the money attempting to locate a stoppage in the sewer lines from his house to the main sewer in the street only to find the water was backing up from a plugged up main sewer. Safety-Service Director Ralph Forrest said he didn't feel the city was liable for work done on the sewer lines on Brown's property. He said stoppage of the sewer was something he couldn't foresee. He said service department crews were on hand an hour after he was told of the water backing up into Brown's basement.

Two other claims for damages to automobiles were approved. One, for $59, for damage to his car by a city snow plow was amended to $52. It was submitted by Paul Barst. The $7 was deducted because Council felt part of the damage to be repaired on Barst's car was not caused by the snow plow.

The other claim was submitted by Paul Arndt. He claimed $29 damage to his car when a cover on a storm sewer gave while he was parking his car in front of 259 E Walnut St. last September.

Sewage Plant Fence

An ordinance to authorize the safety-service director to advertise for bids and enter into a contract for the purchase and installation of a fence around the city sewage treatment plant was referred to the lands and buildings committee for further study. Councilman Quaintance asked what had become of a previous ordinance adopted by Council last February authorizing erection of the fence. Forrest said it was decided to wait until the construction of the sewage treatment plant was completed to determine how much money would remain of a sewer bond issue for the plant. He said the plant is now completed and there is enough money remaining in the bond fund to pay for a fence around the entire area of the plant. He estimated the fence would cost some $10,000 and amount in the bond fund is about $20,000. The earlier ordinance had provided for the fence around the plant buildings only, he said.

Engineers Commended

A resolution commending the office of the city engineer for the preparation of a detailed sewer map presented to Council at its last meeting was unanimously approved.

In other Council discussions, a question of whether or not anyone could be authorized to use an air rifle to kill pigeons in the city. Councilman Quaintance said some people wanted to hire a man to shoot pigeons around their homes but firing of air rifles and other firearms is prohibited by city law. The question was referred to the Municipal Services committee.

Request for a four-way stop street at Jefferson and E. Mark St. was reported by First Ward Councilman Harold Smith.

Street Light Asked

Need for a street light in front of the new YMCA building was reported by Fourth Ward Councilman Ralph Williams and Councilman-at-Large Richard Lister reported a street light is also needed on Kenton Ave. at the Erie and New York Central Railroads crossing. No action was taken on these reports.

A report from City Engineer Thomas Cathers concerning cost of proposed sewer installations for a new housing development on S. Seffner Ave. south of Ohio Ave. was read.

Invocation was given by Rev. J. B. Holloway, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church.

All Councilmen were present for the meeting.

Auto Auctions To Begin Here

Michigan Firm Plans Weekly Dealer Sales

A new venture in used car sales will begin here Thursday with the opening of a weekly automobile auction for dealers.

Operated by the Simpson Bros. Auto Auction of Mount Clemens, Mich., the sales will be held each Thursday at the Goebel Walston auto sales lot one mile south of Marion on Route 4. Walston, an automobile dealer here for 19 years, will be a partner with Simpson Bros. in the venture.

Dealers from Ohio and Michigan are expected to consign some 100 cars to the first sale, Walston reported. In the sale, which is conducted in much the same way as old time horse auctions, automobiles will be put on the block one at a time for bids of dealers.

Simpson Bros. operates two other weekly auto auctions, one in Mount Clemens and the other in Detroit, Mich. Auctioneers here will be Wade Simpson of Mount Clemens, Sam Giordono of Detroit and Eddie Lake of Columbus, O.

Almost one-third of all radio sets produced in the United States are used in automobiles.

Crusade Against Fear

The White House newsmen who heard President Eisenhower make his dramatic plea for confidence in the United States last Wednesday shared this common impression:

That the President believes he must rally the American people to a realization of their collective strength if they will pull together instead of pulling apart.

Franklin D. Roosevelt was trying to do exactly the same thing on March 4, 1933, when he told his countrymen that all they had to fear was fear itself.

To a greater or lesser extent, depending on the circumstances of his administration, each president of the United States sees it as his first and greater duty to unify the nation.

Yet, every president is confronted with divisive forces when he attempts to do this. Each force has its own reason for refusing to lose its separate identity. In this way are preserved the differences of opinion which are the proof of freedom, as well as the threat to freedom.

It is only in free countries that government draws on the faith of the people to strengthen its hand. In autocracies, the people look to the government.

The things which have happened to Dwight Eisenhower since he swept a national election in 1952 have been pretty much the same as those which have tried the souls of all presidents and tested the fiber of the republic.

That is the essence of the presidential duty to withsand adversiy.

Presidents do not live in a White House vacuum. They are susceptible to the same things which affect the lives of all of us. When they suggest the need of confidence, it is because they feel a lack of confidence.

"We fear depression," President Eisenhower said. "We fear the loss of jobs. All of these, with their impact on the human mind make us act almost hysterically and you find hysterical reaction. We have got to look at each of those in its proper perspective to make it — to understand what the whole sum total means, and remember this: The reason they are feared and bad is because there is a little element of truth in each, a little element of danger in each, and that means that finally there is left a little residue that you can meet only by faith, a faith in the destiny of America."

As in 1933, all we have to fear is fear itself.

Who's on First?

The claim by Sen Johnson of Colorado that professional baseball is in danger of turning into "beerball" apparently is going to reach the floor of the Senate.

If and when it gets there, the senators will need to bear one thing in mind — that someone has to put up the capital to keep professional baseball on a going-concern basis.

Whatever restrictions Congress may decide to impose on baseball's backers this year or some other year will need to be imposed with an eye to financial reality, if the idea is to preserve the good name and the financial feasibility of the national game.

It does sometimes seem that beer companies have become unduly prominent in professional baseball, not merely as club owners but as sponsors of broadcasts and promotions. There is a grain of substance in the witticism that the name of the national game should be changed to "beerball."

But someone has to put up the capital to make professional baseball possible. Any restriction which barred it from the money it needs to keep it going would make no sense if the main idea is to preserve baseball.

Spring Song

There is, the experts tell us, such a thing as economic man. There also are such subdivided creatures as political man, military man, social man and so on. The compartmentalization of man is infinite. It is useful, in the sense that it narrows down a complex subject to understandable proportions.

Man in his entire proportions is much too much to be grasped by even the most resolute mind. He is man — a unreliable creature multiplied hundreds of millions of times and no two editions exactly the same.

When a certain few things happen to him, however, his reactions are pretty much the same. One of these reactions is about to happen. The sun is about to reach that point in its shining on the face of the earth when the warmth it imparts by day will be greater than the loss of the same warmth by nigh. This will cause certain things to happen.

Trees will come into leaf. Birds will build nests. Bulbs will send up sprouts. Seeds will germinate. Ducks will lay eggs. Swans will entwine their necks. And man — springtime man, who is not to be confused with economic man, political man, or any other compartment of the species — will sigh deeply and think of doing the things springtime man has thought of doing since he sat on a rock in the primeval sunshine and wondered what was on the other side of the mountain.

It's spring at last — here and on the other side of the mountain.

Capital Eavesdropping

By David Lawrence

Executive Agencies Need Good Housecleaning

History has a strange way of repeating itself. Today there is a furor in Congress over the revelation that someone in the office of the secretary of the Army has been eavesdropping on telephone conversations with members of Congress and their staffs.

Back in 1906 and 1907, President Theodore Roosevelt used the Secret Service to shadow congressmen whom he suspected of wrongdoing and Congress retaliated by passing a law denying to the Secret Service any funds thereafter for investigations in behalf of any other department or agency of the government and confining the Secret Service solely to the detection of counterfeiting and to the protection of the life of the President.

It further ordered the discharge of any Secret Service man found guilty of any snooping except as provided in the law. To clear up this situation, Congress created the FBI in 1908.

IT IS AN INFAMOUS disregard of ethics for anybody in the executive agencies of the government or anywhere else to "monitor" or record stenographically a telephone conversation without doing the gentlemanly thing—notifying the other party that his words are being taken down.

"Questionable methods" has been frequently used of late as a phrase of condemnation of congressional committees but nothing that has ever been done by a congressional committee compares in unmorality with the eavesdropping on telephone conversations by persons in the executive agencies.

President Eisenhower is too much of a gentleman to allow anything of this kind to happen hereafter and he would be well advised to order all such memoranda to be destroyed.

Sen. Symington in a colloquy last week with a lawyer from the office of the secretary of defense brought out at a Senate armed services committee hearing that there were no mechanical recordings but there are in existence some stenographic notes of "monitored conversations" in connection with the controversy between Secretary Stevens, and his counsel John G. Adams, on the one hand and the staff members of the McCarthy committee.

THE MISSORI senator insisted that all these records be produced and—now that the issue has been raised—they should be, though the executive departments will have to consider how this precedent is then going to meet various demands certain to arise now from Congress for all records on "monitored conversations" between senators or representatives and their staffs and the executive departments, including, of course, the conversations of Democratic as well as Republican members of Congress.

Doubtless there have in the past been many congressmen who have asked officials in the armed services about commissions or special treatment for their constituents especially in winding up business affairs when drafted.

Members of Congress find their mail full of such requests and they usually turn the cases over to persons on their office staffs to handle on the telephone. If business being transacted on the telephone between Capitol Hill and the offices in the Pentagon is to be "monitored" this can only result in demands that Pentagon officials personally come to the Capitol hereafter or send some of their subordinates to take up such matters—a waste of valuable time all around.

THE REAL OBJECTION is to the violation of the so-called "code of fair procedure" which the Eisenhower administration has been piously advising congressional committees to adopt. Apparently there is considerable house-cleanin on "questionable methods' to be done at the executive agencies.

To eavesdrop on a telephone is morally and at times legally wrong. Where there are recording devices, the law requires a "beep" sound to signal both parties that the conversation is recorded. A directive issued some time ago in the Department of Defense prohibits the use of recording or tapping devices at the Pentagon unless the fact is disclosed to both parties.

The directive really isn't limited to mechanical devices. It implies that all "recording" is taboo and this would seem to include "monitoring" unless both parties are advised that a stenographer is listening in on an extension to take notes.

In the Cohn-Schine-Adams case it is obvious from the memorandum which was clandestinely sent to 14 Democrats and only one Republican on Capitol Hill by the office of the secretary of the Army that the directive was violated.

ALSO, THE SO-CALLED report is a post-dated document compiled from excerpts from stenographer's notes.

It is significant that the memorandum issued by the Senate committee is a series of actual reports made by committee staff members putting on paper their recollection after each conversation had been concluded.

Many persons have jumped to conclusions and prejudged the case though under other circumstances those same persons are usually in the front row shouting the loudest about fair play and how a man should be regarded as innocent until he is proved guilty.

Going to Grass

By TRUMAN TWILL

You never know what you're getting into any more. Here it is, time for lambs again—almost—and everything seems to depend on Congress, to hear Congress tell about it.

The way Congress gets into this is that if the big wool boys out West who control lots of votes manage to twist enough arms in Washington there will be one arrangement for perpetuating sheep and if they don't twist enough arms there will be another one.

Either way it shouldn't make any difference to a weekend farmer with a little flock of pet sheep helping him mow his lawn, except that sheep in little flocks grow wool and mutton the same as sheep in big flocks and unless someone invents something to do with wool besides make it into cloth and mutton besides eat it there will have to be something done about sheep.

The trouble is that cloth now is being made of many things right now besides wool—coal, gas, box tops and used yo-yos. This has been raising hob with the wool business. The mutten business is not so desperate but it, too, is far from happy.

It might be curtains for the wool business if prudent men in the government weren't fearful of letting anything as useful as sheep go by default. They keep thinking of places on this earth where sheep are indispensable for the simple reason they are the only meat and fiber animal which does not complete with mankind for the same supplies he must have to sustain his own life.

All a sheep needs to grow an all-wool suit and a set of lamb chops is grass—and not very good grass at that. This is why there were shepherds watching their flocks by night on the hills near Bethlehem. It is why the sheep is the basic animal throughout the Near East.

It is why the English, Scots and Welsh always have relied heavily on mutton. Until some scientist with a fevered brain learns how homo sapiens can convert grass to his personal use, the most efficient way to convert it into edibles and wearables for humans is to rely on the poor, dumb sheep.

The sheep, in turn, must rely on humans for care, since they are helpless.

All of this is basic but delightfully obscure to massive minds which keep jiggering the nation's economy this way and that way to suit their various and sometimes nevarious purposes. They are busy with their jiggering right now.

If some of them had their way, they'd be as shortsighted about sheep as they were about the streams and forests they dried up and cut down to clear the path for their strange brand of progress. They'd put all the poor, dumb sheep out of their misery along with the poor, dumb lunkheads who are fighting for a subsistence level in what would be a vital industry if the United States had to go to grass sometime.

Some people try to take the long view. They think the sheep should be preserved instead of being obliterated like the bison. That's really what the fight is about.

Out in the sheepfold, no one pays any attention to all this. The lambs know nothing of the troubles of this troubled world. Being lambs, they just do what comes naturally, as they have been doing for thousands of years—eating grass and growing food and clothing for men in the oldest quid pro quo arrangement in the animal kingdom.

A Common Aim

Demagogues Avoid Basic Tax Issues

By Raymond Moley

The Sam Rayburn of pre-Truman days whom I knew quite well would have been, I am sure, ashamed of the sort of speech made recently against the administration's tax program. Perhaps the change in this amiable, impressionable man was due to his association with the demagoguery of H.S.T.

I wondered, in fact, while witnessing the broadcast whether some mischievous ghost had played a wicked joke on this trusting gentleman and had given him a speech written for Wayne Morse. There was reason for this wonder, because the gentleman from Bonham stumbled over the script as if he had never seen it before delivery time.

Rayburn made only a passing reference to the George plan to raise the exemptions. Jere Cooper, who also spoke, ignored it entirely. Both apparently left that difficult matter of justification to the Senator from Georgia, who was laboring at the job when the show went off the air.

THE MAIN THEME of Rayburn was the iniquity of reducing the burden on investment caused by the double taxation of profits from industry. In other words, the tax on dividends.

The entire argument of all three gentlemen is based on the false premise that tax reform involves rewarding the good and punishing the bad. In the Rayburn philosophy the good are the people in the lower brackets and the bad are the well-to-do.

The purpose of taxation is to raise revenue. Fairness is an essential element, but fairness does not mean merely "ability to pay." This idea is a part of the Marxian expression. "From each according to his ability, to each according to his need."

The Rayburn thesis is that if there is any gravy to be served, the people in the lower income brackets should be served and the people in the higher brackets should go on as before. He does not meet the argument for the partial removal of double taxation on the basis of fairness.

Rayburn also seems to assume that the rich have been fattening all along by tax favors. The fact is that the rich and the middle-income people have been soaked and soaked again.

THE RELATIVE burdens have already been adjusted to accomplish what Rayburn wants. A single figure will show that. If all of the income of individuals getting over $10,000 were taxed 100 per cent, instead of the present rates, the additional revenue would be only $4.7 billion. That would pay the expenses of the federal government for about four weeks. Somebody must pay for the other 48 weeks at the present rate of spending.

Another fallacious assumption in the Rayburn speech is that stock ownership lies almost exclusively with the rich. The fact is that since we have been able to compile any reliable income figures (around 1916), the number owning stock has increased many-fold and the trend of the major possession of the industrial plant through stock has been steadily toward the people in the lower brackets.

MOREOVER, due to double taxation, the amount realized from a dollar of extra profit in a corporation which finally finds its way to the owner of stock has been getting less and less.

For example, if you are a married man getting between $2,000 and $4,000 a year after deductions and exemptions, the company in which you own stock must earn approximately three dollars before you get one. The government gets the rest.

The "bad" people in the brackets around $50,000 get one dollar, while the government gets four from additional income earned.

None of the three gentlemen tackled the basic issue raised by President Eisenhower, which is that everyone — or nearly everyone — should participate in the support of government, even though some pay only a little.

Combat-Fatigue Mystery

By THOMAS R. HENRY

Combat fatigue-long the terror of fighting men and the puzzle of scientists—has been proven to be a physical condition, much like a severe infection.

The new analysis of just what battlefield fear and stress can do to a human was demonstrated by a group of Johns Hopkins University Navy psychologists and physiologists who studied men in the front lines in Korea.

Scientists had long been puzzled whether the soldiers with fatigue—and presumably the shell shock of World War I—were mental cases.

Now it has been established their troubles are primarily physical, with savage punishment to the blood supply and vital glands.

The researchers ran detailed tests on 120 men in three groups: A combat unit which suffered 70 per cent casualties in prolonged intensive fighting; another under almost constant artillery fire with 7 per cent casualties, and a control group behind the lines.

Measures of blood, urine and saliva showed that men who had undergone the five-day bombardment suffered far more severely than those in intensive fighting for 18-hour periods.

Among the former, the adrenal gland output of hormones had been exhausted and resisted even the stimulation of ACTH, the pituitary gland hormone which usually sparks the adrenals. The 18-hour combat men actually showed up above normal in adrenal activity.

The roar and peril of battle punished the body in another way, too, the researchers said in their report just made public: Severe dehydration was found, especially after the intensive fighting.

This drying out of tissues turned up even when the returning soldiers had had an ample supply in their canteens. Apparently, the research teams concluded, stress will not only produce dehydration but also will suppress normal thirst.

"There was a violent blood count change," says the report, "in that adult white cells almost disappeared. The normal ratio of adult to immature cells is about 18 to one. After combat it dropped as low as one to three.

"Where and how they go is unknown but the condition has been observed previously only in case of severe burns or near-fatal infections. This physiological change is the most striking evidence found of the extremity of stress which the infantryman suffers.

"There was enormous variation between individual soldiers. One theory is that all have the same pattern of exhaustion but that they tire at different rates. The tired man is not effected more but faster. What he shows after 18 hours of combat another would show after 30 hours. The researchers did establish that artillery shelling is particularly stressful compared to small arms fire and hand-to-hand fighting, presumably because of the frustration in not being able to fight back."

Turks Aid America

ANKARA (AP) — Just before the outbreak of the U.S. Civil War Sultan Abdul Medjid of Turkey authorized the export of 2 male and 18 female Angora goats to the United States. Angora goats are the source of mohair and Turkey's policy had been to prohibit shipment of the goats to protect the local mohair market.

Turkish sources say the 2½ million Angora goats found today in Texas, Oregon and other states are all descended from the original 20.

As a result, American mohair output is now the largest in the world. Turkey is second and the United States is one of the biggest buyers of Turkish mohair.

Turks refer to this as Turkish economic aid to America.

Thissaway to the Big Show

Joseph McCarthy has accepted Ed Murrow's invitation to reply on his program and, unless called off, this means a new TV offering entitled "Your Showdown of Showcowns."—It can be a serious threat to Ringling's Circus, spring baseball and the opening of northern horse racing. We have been a rooter for Ed Murrow's TV routines, but think that his telecast in the McCarthy blast contained all the unfair elements of which McCarthy critics most loudly complain: The "out of text" technique and the deliberate use of carefully selected words and pictures to give the worst possible impression of the "target for tonight" . . . In our book it was like giving the public a picture of Ty Cobb by flashing only the scenes of Ty spiking a second baseman, or offering a sketch of Babe Ruth showing only the episodes where he chased fans into the stands.

You can make a bum of any man, however high, by a search limited to his errors, bad breaks and irascible moments, say we . . . (Yeah, it's easier in Joe's case, but it still is slanted stuff and down the foul line.) We suggest that the Murrow-McCarthy TV show be run something along this line

1. Episode from an old-fashioned Western.
2. Weather report: Rain or Shine.
3. Ding Dong School.
4. Bing-Bang School
5. Film flashes by McCarthy of Murrow in moments when not exactly at his best.
6. Films representing a true picture of President Eisenhower's golf by excluding everything except shots of him taking nine putts to a green.
7. Pictures portraying the true story of Jack Dempsey by showing only his last fight with Gene Tunney.

We would open the program with "March of the Gladiators," and have a musical program including "Who Threw the Overalls in Mrs. Murphy's Chowder," the "Toreador Song From Every Man for Himself," and "Hit Him Again; He May Not Sue." (Let's have the State Boxing Commission run it, stating clearly whether Murrow or McCarthy is wearing the purple trunks, announcing who will count at the bell and explaining about the compulsory eight count.)

In our house a visitor, who didn't know the President was scheduled, tuned in for the program, saw Ike on the screen and exclaimed, "Don't tell me Desi and Lucille's baby has grown that big!"

A man who married a wealthy woman in Palm Beach, left her in a motel in Virginia and drove to New Jersey, tells the police he kept driving because he thought a car was following him, and that he forgot where he had left the wife . . . Hall, Mitchell Meet at Dinner In Philadelphia

Opposing Chairmen Of Major Parties Hold Joint Press Session

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Shaking hands in the glare of flash bulbs, the national chairmen of America's two major political parties greeted each other on a first name basis last night.

"Hello, Steve," said Republican Leonard W. Hall cheerily as he met his oft-time verbal opponent at an unusual joint press conference.

"Hi, Len," replied Democrat Stephen A. Mitchell with a smile.

Precedes Dinner Meeting

The press conference preceded a dinner meeting of Philadelphia's "Committee of Seventy," a non-political reform group which calls itself a "watchdog of politics" in the city of brotherly love. Hall and Mitchell were guest speakers

'This press conference is just for your benefit," Mitchell told newsmen before the dinner. "We'll try not to get into any partisan debate."

They tried but didn't entirely succeed These were their answers to reporters' questions involving Sen. Joseph R McCarthy (R-Wis):

Hall "I agree with Sens. Knowland and Ferguson when they say McCarthy should step down as chairman of his investigating committee during forthcoming hearings on the Cohn-Army question."

Mitchell "McCarthy, fortunately isn't our problem. I'm just glad he's not a Democrat."

What comment have you on the nation's economy'

Mitchell: "It's obvious the economy is suffering Unemployment has risen and there are conditions and problems which require definite action."

Hall: "I recall that in 1930, during the previous administration, when unemployment reached a total of 4,700,000, Democrats were still calling that prosperity. They've changed their tune today, although I believe the latest figures put unemployment at about 3,700,000."

What will be the issues in the next election'

Hall: "Voters will be concerned with the scorecard on the Eisenhower administraion. They'll be pleased, I'm sure, with our progress on the President's forward-looking program."

Mitchell: "The important question is how is the Eisenhower administration running the government and how is it handling, for instance, present economic conditions and other problems. I think Republicans are putting more attention on running for office than running the government."

Communism Issue?

Will communism be an issue"

Hall: "The people are entitled to the facts"

Mitchell: "The issue won't be communism because I don't know of anybody in favor of it. Everybody's against it and that doesn't make an issue"

Hall and Mitchell both attended Georgetown University Law School but didn't meet each other until they became party chairman.

In their dinner speeches, Hall and Mitchell both urged greater participation in government by all citizens.

Township Trustees Association Holds Dinner at Claridon School

The first quarterly meeting of the Marion County Township Trustees and Clerks Association was held Saturday night at Claridon School with 100 township and county officials and guests in attendance.

A steak supper was served prior to the business session by the Fellowship of the Salem EUB Church and Rev. Eugene Clark of the church pronounced the invocation.

Roger Bond of Marion entertained the group with several feats of magic and an exhibition of mental telepathy.

Paul Augenstine, trustee of Marion Township, introduced William Hutchman, vice president of the Lockwood Lumber Co., who spoke on the subject "The Grass Is Always Greener."

Hutchman, who was raised in the mining country of Pennsylvania, recounted the road and drainage troubles of township officials in those days, and stated "it was usual procedure to go up the mountain, fifteen feet forward and ten backward." Snow was cleared by hand, and since most of the road beds were lower than the abutting land, head-high drifts were considered normal.

"It's a common fallacy of the human race to be rather envious of the other fellow," he said. "The farmer feels the businessman has the 'easy' profession; the layman thinks the minister has a 'gravy' job, and the laborer could always do a better job at bossing. Maybe, it would be better for all concerned, if we could change jobs for a short while then we would be more considerate and appreciative of the problems and troubles of our fellow man."

Joseph A. Vogel, of Scott Township, assciation president, presided over the business session. Neil Weirick of Tully gave a report on the state convention held in Columbus during January. County officials spoke briefly.

Hosts for the meeting were officials of Marion, Pleasant, Waldo, Prospect and Green Camp Townships, with Ben McNeal of Prospect acting as chairman.

Lost Eloquence

By George Sokolsky

When one goes to Washington for a day or two, there is no telling what might happen. You might get into a conversation on some momentous question and suddenly find yourself a sage, advising on how to solve every human question, or you might horseplay about men and events only to discover that someone keeps a running diary of men and events, including quotations of the latest gents room story.

SOKOLSKY

So I went to the annual dinner of The Friendly Sons of St. Patrick and listened to two witty addresses, light, delightful to the ear, sagacious in overtones, such as one rarely hears in these days of ponderous, monitored speeches, often written by press agents who provide their clients with deadly dull ditch water.

THE MOST WITTY speech was made by Dwight D. Eisenhower, who was inducted as an honorary member of this Irish fraternity, he being the third president of the United States to be so honored. The others were George Washington and Harry S. Truman. Why the Irish missed all the others, I do not know. They are a proud race.

I could not help thinking on this occasion that the President is really a great wit and that it is a pity that he does not use some of his artistry in words in the speeches he delivers to the American people.

His public addresses seem heavy-laden; yet in the few words that he spoke at the St. Patrick's Day dinner, without a note, taking advantage of immediate incidents, his wit was in the best tradition of such men as Josh Billings, Mark Twain, or that most brilliant of American after-dinner speakers, Simeon Ford, who is now forgotten as happens to most men. Wit is disappearing from our way of life and its place is being taken by the wisecrack.

The speaker of the evening was not the President, who was expected to say little more than "Thank You," when they placed upon him a green ribbon with a golden medallion at the end. For the speech of the evening, the Irish had selected a McCarthy, not from Wisconsin but from Minnesota. There was an Irish tone about this man as he spoke poetically of his race of which the Irish never forget, be they of South or North.

WHAT INTERESTED me most was something he read from an Irish Monk, Cadoc, which struck me as particularly befitting these times.

This is what Representative Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota read:

I hate the judge who loves money, the scribe who loves war, chiefs who do not guard their subjects, and nations without vigor.

I hate houses without dwellers, lands untilled, fields that bear no harvest, landless clans, the agents of error, the oppressors of truth.

I hate him who respects not father and mother, those who make strife among friends, a country in anarchy, lost learning, and uncertain boundaries.

I hate journeys without safety, families without virtue, lawsuits without reason, ambushes and treasons, falsehood in council, justice unhonored.

I hate a man without a trade, a laborer without freedom, a society without teachers, a false witness before a judge, the undeserving exalted to high position.

Fables in place of teaching, knowledge without inspiration, sermons without eloquence, and a man without a conscience.

THIS INVERTED song of hatred is an Irish way of saying what one loves, which is justice and order and a decent way of living.

Not that the Irish have any monopoly on virtue, but it is a queer thing about them that they do possess a dignity of person, sober or otherwise, which in these days of bad manners has a virtue all its own.

Well, there it is. I was invited to this St. Patrick's Day dinner by a Scotsman who is undoubtedly a Presbyterian, although I would not ask him so private a question.

Thieves Well-Equipped For Cambridge Burglary

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Officials of the American-Lithuanian Club told police thieves entered the club's building by removing an alarm control box, prying off a quarter-inch-thick steel plate covering a window, and then removing the grillwork of half-inch steel rods on the inside of the window.

Then they used a heavy sledge-hammer—left behind in the previous break—to crack open a 600-pound safe. Before leaving with the cash, they picked up other tools, which included two crowbars and a steel bar, plus the alarm control box.

Man Seeks Coke, Gets Fire Department Instead

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Oscar Fuwell, thirsting for a cold drink, dropped a nickel into a red box on a wall at City Hospital yesterday, pulled a lever and waited.

No soda pop came out but shortly firemen rushed in with hoses and upraised axes. He was released after explaining his error.

Ghost Ports

By Victor Riesel

Sneaking thugs and avowed Communist conspirators have joined in a vicious power play, strangling the world's greatest port — New York. Women are being followed and terrorized because their husbands choose to try and earn their daily bread. Big, honest longshoremen, who fought for our land, are being trailed by goon squads in expensive cars and warned not to attempt to move U.S. Army cargo.

RIESEL

The U.S. mails are being delayed and diverted. Ships at sea are being radioed not to come into port. Human values worth more than the scores of millions of dollars being lost in profits and wages, are being ground into the muck of the waterfront.

The deadened port of New York may at any moment become the pivot point for an international strike which can paralyze the ports of the Western world.

ALL THIS WAS placed before John L. Lewis in Florida some days ago — by his own aides, who rushed to him from Washington.

They went to Lewis because his name, his dignity and 150,000 of his union's dollars have been used by the wildcat, unmanageable dock terrorists who call themselves strikers.

John Lewis' own lieutenants urged him to break away from the old Longshoremen's Union. They pleaded with him to denounce the outlaws publicly. He listened carefully.

I was reminded of the eloquence which rumbled from him at one of the many dull congressional hearings which he has electrified with a few words. Some years ago Lewis said:

"How many shocks do we wish? How many shocks does it take to move us? Do we live only on shocks and thrills and sensations and the debasement of human values and the wastage of human lives?"

Today, John can answer his own questions. Thousands of humble men seeking their living have been shocked and debased by the terror of the mobsters now ringing New York and keeping honest AFL longshoremen from going to work and reviving the multi-billion dollar port.

If John L. seeks further evidence, I pass on to him the frustration of big, blond ex-sergeant Thomas "Jimmy" Frye.

TRAGEDY DOESN'T always spring from the desiccated pages of the classics. Sometimes it springs from plain guys like Jimmy. He didn't sound like Shakespeare; he didn't even sound like John L. Lewis—but there was poignant eloquence in the simple words of AFL longshoreman Jimmy Frye when he reported what happened as he left his Brooklyn home at 7:30 p.m. last Friday night.

"On the corner two men were standing there, stopped me and pushed me against the building," he said.

"One was wearing a green Army jacket and a grayish blue peak cap. He said, 'I'll put you in a — box. Don't you ever go on the pier again.' He said further, 'We know where your wife works at. If you step on another — pier, well get her, too.' Then they jumped into a light tan car which was waiting at the curb with two of their sidekicks."

The ex-combat soldier, veteran of gallant charges into a thousand sputtering enemy guns, could not move a muscle. He just stood there and took it from two men. It was no longer his life. Now, any move of his could kill his wife. The thugs knew where she could be reached. They mentioned the store in which she worked. They had been shadowing her. Her crime was being the wife of a man who had joined the crusading AFL union to help wipe the thugs off the waterfront.

THERE ARE HUNDREDS of such cases. The documents are available to prove this terror by the band which is making its last stand.

The so-called 70-man "Rank-and-File Strike Committee" of longshoremen now fighting the clean new AFL union should know that it is being exploited, not only by the hoods, but by the Communists as well.

The Tovarischi are pouring scores of thousands of leaflets onto the docks of ports from Portland, Maine, down to Baltimore.

The Commies refer to honest AFL unionists as "strikebreakers" when they try to go to work past the tough outlaw picketlines now strangling the docks.

I'm certain the intelligence services will back the charge that the Communists want this rebel strike to kill New York so that shipping will be diverted from the port. New York-bound vessels would then become "hot cargo" carriers in the strikers' jargon.

After the ships unloaded, say in Baltimore, and take on new freight, they will steam off for London, or South Africa. The commie apparatus hopes to get their comrades in foreign ports to refuse to handle these "hot" ships.

Thus, in a few weeks, this strike could begin to strangle western economy.

The Comintern waterfront section tried this once before. They're passionate to repeat Operation Freeze. And they may. Unless John Lewis, speaking despite his fatigue, chokes off his funds and unleashes his eloquence in swift thunder.

Spring Fever

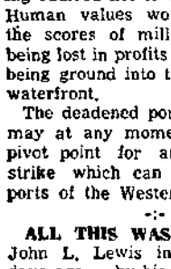
By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Don't know what's wrong with everybody? Could it be spring?

You take the dog for a walk, and he turns around and bites at the leash.

The pigeons start jaywalking in the streets, doing love rumbas with each other and thumbing their wings to their beaks at taxicabs.



HAL BOYLE

A knife-edged wind blows the last clinker of winter in your eye, and while you are grumpily pawing it out a warm sun pats you on the shoulder and says, "There, there. Feel better?"

Everybody seems sleepy and absent minded. At the office the boss tells the hired hand to do something, and the hired hand says, "What did you say?" and the boss nods for a moment and says, "when?"

High in the skyscrapers the swivel chair jockeys muse over what would happen if they threw a spitball at their secretary. They have a secret yearning to open the window and sail paper airplanes down on the heads of strangers.

THE COP ON THE BEAT plods along and suddenly finds himself dreaming of the days when he used to go barefoot. He looks down at his shoes, as if he had half a mind to pull them off.

In tenement windows winter quilts are hung out to be aired. Housewives lean out and call to each other, "My, is my house a mess? How do you like the weather?

A querulous treble sounds in the voices of children. They complain of strange pains and are comforted when their elders tell them, "Oh, they're just growing pains. You're getting bigger every day." one minute a child stands in a dopey-eyed trance, as though he had a head full of adenoids. The next minute he is racing up the street like a maddened colt, running for no other reason except there is something stirring within him that won't let him keep still.

LITTLE BOYS GET out their bean-shooters and set out to ambush the first robin, which annoys the robin as he is busy with housekeping problems and has no time for little boys. Little girls get out forgotten dolls and begin to croon to them.

Rheumatic twinges slowly flee the bones of old folks, and they lose the envy of better-off neighbors who spent the winter in Florida. "Pneumonia weather," they say wisely, when the first rains turn the landscape sodden.

In the suburbs a husband opens his front door to get the morning paper and sees two baby rabbits scampering across the lawn. He grins, steps out to look at the lawn and growls, "Oh, no, not crabgrass already!

In a nearby pond papa frog and mama fog are conducting an amphibious romance. Soon the pond will be full of little tadpoles, all anxious, for some unknown reason, to grow up and be big frogs and boss of the puddle.

In the heart of every tree and bush a whisper grows down to the roots and out to each branch. Suddenly the sleepy buds begin to break open like popcorn, and the brown woods swim in a green mist, a deepening surf of leaves.

EVERYTHING IN NATURE all at once is busting its buttons, trying to grow as tall as the sun. At night the moon and stars seem nearer and brighter, as if a celestial housewife had newly dipped them in silver polish.

Life has a dreamy quality for the race of man. The bank teller ripples a stack of $100 bills in his hands and wonders what it is like in Tahiti. The blood is a crying bugle in the veins, and the stern voice of duty is drowned out by a big fat yaw-w-w-w-w-wn.

Work is for horses and tractors. A man feels like peeling off his past and going for a swim in coral seas far away . . . with Miss Jones, the file clerk. Or maybe her grandmother.

Don't know what's wrong with everybody. But if it's spring fever, doc, don't give us any wonder drug to cure it. Its a wonderful disease, this lotus virus, and the best medicine of the year.

3 Indiana Children Die As Flash Fire Hits Home

WARSAW, Ind. (AP)—Three children of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hyde were burned to death yesterday when a flash fire ate through their small frame home here while the parents were working. A fourth child tumbled through a window to safety.

Dead were Dorothy, 14; Brenda Bernice, 2; and Robert Lewis, 7 months. Charles, 7, escaped without injury.

An explosion of a bottled gas heating stove apparently started the blaze, firemen said.
